Payments Planned On Backlog Of Bills

Contributions to the Stephen Knece Fund are continuing to arrive at The Herald. Today's donations amounted to $1,044.89 bringing the fund total to $3,098.80.

Roy Huffer, local attorney who volunteered his services as administrator of the fund, noted today that the funds were being deposited in a savings account.

Huffer noted that monthly "token payments" would be made on the hospital and medical expenses incurred as the result of Knece's kidney disease.

In addition to making regular payments on the backlog of expenses, the fund will be utilized for current and future needs of Knece and his widowed mother.

Mrs. Helen Knece, mother of the 18-year-old who underwent a kidney transplant on Nov. 5, said that she hopes to get around to thanking "each and everyone who has assisted her both financially and in other ways."

Mrs. Eugene Norris, president of the Kingston Civic Club deposited $410.30 with the fund today as the result of a door-to-door canvass of the village Monday and Tuesday. Included in the total were $20 from the Chillicothe Liberty Hill Christian Church and $15 from the "Needv Family Fund" of the Mead Research Dept., Chillicothe.

Other donations were received from the following groups and organizations: $200 from the Kingston Pentecostal Church; $25 from the Chillicothe Church of Pentecost; $100 from the Circleville Lions Auxiliary; $9.50 from the people attending the Friday night event at the American Legion Home; $20 from Berger Hospital Guild No. 20; $50 from the Philo Lodge Knights of Pythias; $25 from the Second Baptist Church; $25 from the Mr. and Mrs. Garden Club of Chillicothe; $15 from the Tarlton Methodist Sunday School; and 100 pennies from 10-year-old Sam Webb of Dunmore Road who was "saving for Christmas shopping."

Foreign Situation To Affect Nixon Atom Ban Stand

KEY BISCAVAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon intends to reassess the international situation, particularly that in Czechoslovakia, before deciding when he wants the United States to proceed with the treaty to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

A source close to Nixon outlined that position today as the President-elect neared the end of a five-day vacation in Florida and the Bahamas.

Red China Loses U.N. Bid Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Advocates of U.N. membership for Red China suffered their worst defeat in four years Tuesday. By a vote of 58-44 with 23 abstentions the General Assembly rejected a resolution to expel Nationalist China and seat the Chinese Communists.

The assembly adhered to its previous policy of requiring a two-thirds vote.

Italy's proposal to set up a study group to sound out governments on the idea of a two-China solution—seating both the Reds and the Nationalists—was defeated for the second straight year. Both Peking and Formosa have vowed they would never agree to a two-China deal.

The United States supported the study group proposal and indicated during the debate it might throw its support behind a two-China proposal.

U.S. Ambassador J. R. Wiggins said Peking's supporters were automatically excluding the Communists from a seat by insisting that the Nationalists be expelled.

Britain and France, which have extended diplomatic recognition to Peking, voted again to kick the Nationalists out.

$20 Bills OK

With Liquor Stores

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Liquor Control Director Donald D. Cook denied today that clerks in Cleveland area state liquor stores had been instructed to refuse to accept $20 bills.

Cook said all stores had been ordered to remove any signs stating the bills were unacceptable. It was reported that two Cleveland stores had displayed such posters.

the new administration will seek on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which Nixon has endorsed and promised to implement. He has maintained, however, that ratification by the United States should await a normalization of the situation in Czechoslovakia. Republican Nixon took that position as a candidate, after the Soviet invasion last Aug. 20.

A Nixon source said that remains his view, that he has set no timetable for U.S. ratification, and that he will not announce a judgment until the matter is once again before the Senate, which has yet to approve the treaty.

That probably will be shortly after Congress reconvenes on Jan. 3. Nixon takes office on Jan. 20.

Indications are that President Johnson would like to see U.S. action on the treaty completed before he leaves office. But Washington sources indicate they do not believe such swift action would be possible without Nixon's concurrence and full support.

In a series of campaign position statements, Nixon said that, "at a later point, when the situation may be more normalized," the United States should act on the treaty.

Suspend Hunt For Minisub

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP) — Efforts to recover the lost research submarine Alvin were suspended today, the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution announced.

A spokesman said the suspension was ordered because of worsening weather off the New England coast. The spokesman said he did not know when—or whether—the recovery operation would be resumed.

The Alvin, a tiny deep-diving submarine, was lost Oct. 16 in 4,500 feet of water when a cable broke as the craft was being lowered overboard from her mother ship for a routine research mission.

The mishap occurred about 120 miles south of Cape Cod, and almost claimed the lives of her three crewmen.

The Alvin was about to embark on her 307th dive when she was lost. She sank to a depth of between 10 and 15 feet at first, then bobbed back to the surface, allowing her three crewmen to scamper to safety. Then she went under for the final time.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt, in presenting his financial condition and budget address to Circleville Council Tuesday, urged the passage of a city income tax.

"To meet the challenge of the future, we need the additional revenue that only an income tax can provide," the mayor said. "Such a tax, if earmarked for capital improvements to insure its wise use, can lead the way to many necessary services and improvements."

"Such things as better streets, recreation facilities for youth and adults, watershed projects to protect against floods, an improved park system, an improved downtown area, an airport, better governmental facilities, a better storm sewer system just to mention a few things, would be possible. It would also give us the capacity of matching funds with state and federal resources, something Circleville has not been able to do in the past."

"If an income tax is forthcoming then I would recommend that the one mill city operating levy which expires in 1969, not be renewed," the mayor continued. "This would relieve the property tax burden to some small degree and allow the burden to be more equally shared by all," he explained.

"OUR City can and must meet the challenge, it can become as great as its drive, resourcefulness and imagination will allow. The choice is obvious, we must not be deterred, we must forge ahead, we must keep Circleville moving forward."

In outlining the financial condition of the city, Mayor Gerhardt stated that for some time the only reliable increase in revenue for the city has been from the increase in real estate value.

This has amounted from as low as $2 to as much as $20,000 for the city's coffers, the mayor pointed out.

There is a continuing need for increased revenue to just maintain the services of the city, according to the mayor.

The increase in cost of maintaining services is mushroomed not only by increased costs and prices, but also by the continued growth of the city.

Citing a case in point, the mayor noted that there has been a tremendous increase in the mileage of streets within the city.

MAYOR Gerhardt also noted the need for a wage increase for the city departments to remain competitive in the Circleville labor market.

In addition to needing increases just to maintain the present level of services, the city is constantly called upon

Police Seek More Pay, Manpower

Circleville City Police requested council Tuesday to increase the size of the local force and to increase the wage scale and benefits to the department.

The authorized strength of the department is presently eight patrolmen. The members of the force are asking that it be increased to 12 patrolmen.

In a letter to council, policemen pointed out that three officers had been assaulted recently. One officer, Leonard Sines, was hospitalized as a result of injuries.

"A lot of this is probably due to the fact that a lot of people, due to the drastic court decisions, feel that they can beat up a police officer anytime they feel like doing so. Also, we feel that a lot of this has come about because our department is undermanned and we don't have enough help when something like this does happen," the letter stated.

The Circleville Police force is presently short one man of its authorized strength.

O'Hara has submitted his resignation, effective Friday. He plans to move to Arizona. That will leave the department two men short, and some of the men have vacation time coming.

In addition to the personnel serving under civil service, there are the meter attendant, Jean Hmrod; the clerk, Mrs. Louise Roach (who has also resigned); dispatchers Jim Francis and Bill Stevens.

The city has already employed Mrs. Margaret Crites to replace Mrs. Roach. Mrs. Crites former employe of the sheriff's department, begins her duties Dec. 1.

However, there is no civil service eligibility list from which the department may draw to fill the vacant patrolmen posts. And no civil service examination is scheduled.

SAFETY Director Robert Adkins urged Council to take immediate action on the request of the department.

"An income tax will go for naught unless part of it is used to better the police department. You will have a beautiful city and no protection," Adkins said.

He pointed out that all men on the force had been working 14 to 16 hours a day recently because of a shortage of manpower. "They deserve a decent living and enough

Judges Rap University Petitions

NEW YORK (AP) — Two federal judges have rebuked the president and 5,000 students of Cornell University for "seeking to sway" a decision in behalf of a student convicted of tearing up his draft card.

The student, Bruce D. Dancis, 20, was freed without bail by a three-judge U.S. 2nd Court of Appeals panel Tuesday pending a hearing Dec. 16 on appeal of his conviction.

But two of the judges criticized Cornell President James A. Perkins, who sent a letter and telegram to the appeals court, which also received a petition containing 5,000 student signatures urging leniency for Dancis.

Said Judge Irving R. Kaufman: "A court is not a political forum; nor should an issue be decided in favor of the litigant who can produce the more influential and more numerous supporters," adding:

"We believe it would be highly improper to receive the petition or to consider the telegram and letter, just as we would refuse similar blandishments if offered by the prosecution."

Judge Robert P. Anderson said it was "shocking" that an educational institution was unaware it was acting improperly in seeking to influence a court in a specific case.

The third jurist on the panel, Judge Charles H. Tenney, did not comment from the bench.

Flu Epidemic Seen In U.S.

Early Cases Proving Mild

WASHINGTON (AP) — The surgeon general says early cases of the new Hong Kong flu have been mild, but a lot of people will still spend two or three days in bed with the disease this winter.

Dr. William H. Stewart said in an interview the new flu appears free of complications or after effects, even though "you still don't feel very good when you have it."

After two or three days "you're back on your feet, but you don't feel quite up to par. It's no more serious than ordinary influenza."

Stewart said persons in good health and under 65 years of age won't even need the vaccine developed to ward off the disease. But the surgeon general said he expects the disease to reach epidemic proportions.

"I think it's safe to say that we will have an active year—that we will have a lot of people who have this kind of flu," Dr. Stewart said.

So far public health officials have identified flu outbreaks among Marines in San Diego and civilians in Needles, Calif., as being of the Hong Kong variety.

But flu outbreaks suspected to be of the Hong Kong variety have occurred in Colorado and New Jersey. Officials expect to know within a few days whether the new strain was involved.

Re-Position Bullet By Centrifuge Use

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — A bullet inside the brain of a hold-up victim was re-positioned Tuesday by whirling him in a centrifuge normally used in space research by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Joseph Barrios, 63, a cook, was wounded during a restaurant robbery last Oct. 7. He was strapped into the scientific whirling at the NASA's Ames Research Laboratory and spun at speeds subjecting him to as much as six times the force of gravity.

Solons Hold Legislation To 1st Reading

Circleville Councilman David Goldschmidt presented an ordinance before council Tuesday calling for a one per cent city income tax.

In presenting the ordinance, Councilman Goldschmidt asked his fellow legislators not to take action last night, but to take the ordinance home and study it thoroughly before the next meeting.

"Come back at the next meeting prepared to vote on the income tax," Goldschmidt said. The proposal was held to a first reading.

The ordinance calls for a one per cent income tax on persons working with the city and on persons living in the city and working outside the city.

GOLDSCHMIDT pointed out to The Herald that it was impossible to determine the amount of revenue that would be realized from such a tax. "Estimates range from $150,000 to over $300,000," Goldschmidt said.

He explained that there was presently no way of knowing how much money people living within the city and working outside the city are earning.

The council finance committee does have information giving a fair estimate of total wages paid by Circleville's industries and businesses.

Although there has been little discussion on Council floor concerning an income tax, the finance committee has been considering one for some time as a means of providing much needed revenue.

There was no discussion last night when the ordinance was presented.

Goldschmidt and his committee have earmarked 70 per cent of the proposed tax for capital improvements, 20 per cent for non capital improvements and 10 per cent for other city functions.

HE said that if the tax is passed, his committee will recommend that a one mill real estate tax that expires next year not be renewed. The city solons enacted legislation giving the mayor the authority to declare a state of emergency in case of civil disasters.

Teachers Back In N.Y. Schools After Sit-In

NEW YORK (AP) — Union teachers returned today to three schools in Ocean Hill-Brownsville where angry groups of parents had held overnight sit-ins to protest part of the agreement that ended the teachers' strike.

The teachers and the students entered the schools after a state trustee running the experimental, decentralized Brooklyn district gave the principals at these schools letters removing them from authority.

The letters also required that unauthorized persons be out of the school buildings before students would be allowed to enter.

The sit-in protest followed the generally peaceful reopening of the city's 900 schools Tuesday after a citywide strike that kept most of the 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for 35 days.

70 West Virginia Miners Trapped By Blasts, Fire

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —Thundering explosions ripped through a rich coal mine early today, trapping as many as 75 miners. But the Marion County sheriff's office and coal company officials said 21 had been located or rescued.

Smoke and fire billowed from one entrance to the mine and smoke clogged others.

Sheriff Robert Tennant said

eight men had been found at the bottom of a shaft and were scooped out, two at a time, by a bucket lowered into the shaft by a crane.

The mine is the Mountaineer Coal Company's No. 9 located just west of Mannington in the coal country of north-central West Virginia, near the Pennsylvania state line. Mountaineer is the state's third largest coal producing company and is a division of Consolidation Coal Co. Mountaineer president Dave Davis said 13 miners had come out of the mine at the slope opening near the coal preparation plant.

"The severity of the explosive forces in the Llewellyn portal area were of such great magnitude as to place in jeopardy the lives of the employees working in the immediate area," Davis said.

The company said 360 men work the mine in three shifts. The more than 70 men on the third shift were due off about 7:30 a.m. (EST). But the first explosion rumbled through the long shaft about an hour and a half earlier.

Wives and children of the miners rushed to the entrance, as did rescue teams from across the area.

Tennant said seven to nine men reached the surface safely just after the first blast. The force of the blast, Tennant said, blew machinery through the Llewellyn portal and destroyed it.

Rescuers concentrated on the Farmington portal, about one mile from the Llewellyn entrance.

West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistance from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off their shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts.

State Mines Director Elmer Workman rushed to the scene to direct rescue efforts.

The Mannington mine produced more than two million tons of coal last year. The shaft has a 98-inch coal seam which is an abnormally large seam and the mine's production indicates its richness. Daily production averages 9,434 tons.

A slope mine is a shaft burrowed into the side of a mountain at a low angle and the coal is pulled from the mine on cars riding a narrow-gauge track.

The West Virginia Department of mines said there were no fatal accidents at the mine last year, but there have been 18 nonfatal incidents this year.

Solons Hold Legislation To 1st Reading

Circleville Councilman David Goldschmidt presented an ordinance before council Tuesday calling for a one per cent city income tax.

In presenting the ordinance, Councilman Goldschmidt asked his fellow legislators not to take action last night, but to take the ordinance home and study it thoroughly before the next meeting.

"Come back at the next meeting prepared to vote on the income tax," Goldschmidt said. The proposal was held to a first reading.

The ordinance calls for a one per cent income tax on persons working with the city and on persons living in the city and working outside the city.

GOLDSCHMIDT pointed out to The Herald that it was impossible to determine the amount of revenue that would be realized from such a tax. "Estimates range from $150,000 to over $300,000," Goldschmidt said.

He explained that there was presently no way of knowing how much money people living within the city and working outside the city are earning.

The council finance committee does have information giving a fair estimate of total wages paid by Circleville's industries and businesses.

Although there has been little discussion on Council floor concerning an income tax, the finance committee has been considering one for some time as a means of providing much needed revenue.

There was no discussion last night when the ordinance was presented.

Goldschmidt and his committee have earmarked 70 per cent of the proposed tax for capital improvements, 20 per cent for non capital improvements and 10 per cent for other city functions.

HE said that if the tax is passed, his committee will recommend that a one mill real estate tax that expires next year not be renewed.

The city solons enacted legislation giving the mayor the authority to declare a state of emergency in case of civil disasters.

The ordinance was passed

Teachers Back In N.Y. Schools After Sit-In

NEW YORK (AP) — Union teachers returned today to three schools in Ocean Hill-Brownsville where angry groups of parents had held overnight sit-ins to protest part of the agreement that ended the teachers' strike.

The teachers and the students entered the schools after a state trustee running the experimental, decentralized Brooklyn district gave the principals at these schools letters removing them from authority.

The letters also required that unauthorized persons be out of the school buildings before students would be allowed to enter.

The sit-in protest followed the generally peaceful reopening of the city's 900 schools Tuesday after a citywide strike that kept most of the 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for 35 days.

70 West Virginia Miners Trapped By Blasts, Fire

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Thundering explosions ripped through a rich coal mine early today, trapping as many as 75 miners. But the Marion County sheriff's office and coal company officials said 21 had been located or rescued.

Smoke and fire billowed from one entrance to the mine and smoke clogged others. Sheriff Robert Tennant said eight men had been found at the bottom of a shaft and were scooped out, two at a time, by a bucket lowered into the shaft by a crane.

The mine is the Mountaineer Coal Company's No. 9 located just west of Mannington in the coal country of north-central West Virginia, near the Pennsylvania state line. Mountaineer is the state's third largest coal producing company and is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Mountaineer president Dave Davis said 13 miners had come out of the mine at the slope opening near the coal preparation plant.

"The severity of the explosive forces in the Llewellyn portal area were of such great magnitude as to place in jeopardy the lives of the employees working in the immediate area," Davis said.

The company said 360 men work the mine in three shifts. The more than 70 men on the third shift were due off about 7:30 a.m. (EST). But the first explosion rumbled through the long shaft about an hour and a half earlier.

Wives and children of the miners rushed to the entrance,

as did rescue teams from across the area.

Tennant said seven to nine men reached the surface safely just after the first blast. The force of the blast, Tennant said, blew machinery through the Llewellyn portal and destroyed it.

Rescuers concentrated on the Farmington portal, about one mile from the Llewellyn entrance.

West Virginia Gov. Hulet C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistance from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off their shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts.

State Mines Director Elmer Workman rushed to the scene to direct rescue efforts.

The Mannington mine produced more than two million tons of coal last year. The shaft has a 98-inch coal seam which is an abnormally large seam and the mine's production indicates its richness. Daily production averages 9,434 tons.

A slope mine is a shaft burrowed into the side of a mountain at a low angle and the coal is pulled from the mine on cars riding a narrow-gauge track.

The West Virginia Department of mines said there were no fatal accidents at the mine last year, but there have been 18 nonfatal incidents this year.

World Money Crisis Worsens

Shootout Brings Negro Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van, which had "Black Panther—Black Community News Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Palou, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Lt. Dermott Creedon, 49, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation

"into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creedon and Flynn remained in critical condition today.

Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Creedon.

Lt. Michael O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an alleyway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the hand, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

The other officers with O'Mahoney ran to the van.

"Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and I covered them with my gun and ordered them back in and locked them in," said officer John Hanifin.

The gunfire brought other officers running from the nearby Hall of Justice.

Those arrested included Ray Lewis, 28, of San Francisco, editor of the Black Panther, the militant Negro group's publication.

Car Stolen Here Found In Marion

A car stolen from the General Electric parking lot at about 2:50 p.m. Tuesday was recovered in Marion at 9 p.m., Circleville Police said today.

The car, owned by Peter J. Pharr, 480 Stella Ave., was discovered missing by its owner at 6:30 p.m. when he got off work at the local GE plant.

Two juveniles from Marion were apprehended at the time the car was recovered by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Circleville Police recovered a car stolen from Dayton yesterday. Authorities believe the youths had taken the vehicle from Dayton, abandoned it here and took Pharr's car.

CITY Police actually saw the two youths driving Pharr's car, but at the time did not know it was being stolen.

The city officers had received a call at about 2:40 p.m. reporting the two young boys had been seen driving a car in the area of the Bible College and General Electric. They were acting suspiciously.

An officer was dispatched to the area and saw the two boys in the car stolen from the GE parking lot. The car was not reported stolen, however, until nearly four hours later.

Deaths

MR. CURTIS E. ARMSTRONG
Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Curtis E. Armstrong, 85, who died Nov. 15, in Cincinnati.

He was the son of the late George B. and Sarah Ann Dunker Armstrong of Salt Creek Twp. Mr. Armstrong was a 1907 graduate of the Ohio State University Law School and Comptroller of the city of Birmingham, Ala. for 40 years.

His wife, the former Nolene Strawser, preceded him in death in August, 1966.

Survivors include one daughter and son-in-law, Leola and Robert P. Myers, Cincinnati; one grandson, one brother, George H. Armstrong of Salt Creek Twp.; four sisters, Mrs. Orland (Kathryn) Delong, Salt Creek Twp.; Mrs. Alford (Maude) Walker, Hilliard; Mrs. J. M. (Florence) Boecher, of Hillsville, and Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Bitzer of Columbus, and numerous nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Birmingham at Elwood Cemetery on Monday.

MARK PATTON
Chief Warrant Officer Mark Patton, 23, of Mt. Orab, was killed at Ft. Rutger, Ala., where he was a flight instructor. He had previously served a 12-month tour of duty in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patton of Mt. Orab and a nephew of Floyd Mount, Route 1, Stoutsville.

Memorial services will be held Thursday at Ft. Rutger. Services and burial will be held later at Mt. Orab.

Franc, Dollar And Pound All In Trouble

LONDON (AP) — The leading finance ministers of the Western world hurried to Bonn today to try to halt the second major crisis in the international monetary system this year.

Most Western money markets were shut to check speculators' attacks on major Western currencies.

With the money exchanges closed, the speculators switched to gold and sent its price soaring.

Many financial experts in London considered the present emergency even more serious than the March gold crisis because three of the world's principal trading currencies—the French franc, the pound sterling and the dollar—were simultaneously under attack by the speculators.

The crisis was sparked by belief that a devaluation of the franc and a revaluation upward of the West German deutschemark—the world's strongest currency—were imminent.

Speculators rushed to change francs for marks and the fever soon spread to include both the pound and the dollar. But the franc was hardest hit.

In an attempt to check the flight to the mark, the West German government announced that it would not revalue the currency but instead was making tax changes to reduce the large foreign trade surplus responsible for the expectation of revaluation.

In what London's Financial Times called a "backdoor revaluation," the Bonn government said it would reduce its tax on imports and the tax rebate it pays on exports. This should reduce the flow of West German exports and increase imports, resulting in a reduction of the surplus trade balance.

To strengthen confidence in the franc, the French National Assembly approved Premier Maurice Couve de Murville's proposal to reduce 1969 budget expenditures $400 million, which he said would cut the deficit for the year to $1.88 billion. The premier called the cut a "first leg" but gave no indication what spending programs would suffer.

To give the governments a breathing space while the financial community evaluated these measures, the French government closed all financial markets today. West German markets were closed because the day is a national holiday, and the British government ordered the London foreign exchange market closed.

West German Economics Minister Karl Schiller called an emergency meeting in Bonn today of the "Group of 10," the finance ministers of Belgium, Britain, Canada, France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Japan, Sweden and the United States. U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler already was there, taking a roundabout route back to Washington from the NATO meeting in Brussels last week. But the United States so far appeared to be taking only a standby role in the crisis.

Claim U.S. Blocks Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today accused the United States of blocking the Vietnam peace talks and demanded that it get them started.

The Communist party newspaper, which reflects the official Soviet viewpoint, also called for an end to U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam, calling them "provocative overflights."

The article noted that the United States had stopped bombing North Vietnam nearly three weeks ago but since then had made no further progress toward peace.

The Soviet Union, which welcomed the bombing halt as a favorable step toward peace, has recently shown signs of impatience over delay of the Paris peace talks because of South Vietnam's objections.

The official press has urged the United States to put pressure on the South Vietnamese to go to the peace table.

U.S. Population Now 201,750,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. population including servicemen overseas rose slightly more than 2 million during the last year to an estimated total of 201,750,000 last Oct. 1, the Bureau of the Census reported today.

Communist Gunners Shell U.S. Units, 5 Towns, City

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners stepped up their rocket and mortar attacks Tuesday night, giving Da Nang its heaviest pounding in three months and hitting two American infantry units, five district towns and one provincial capital.

Casualties and damage generally were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 150 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Artillery and gunships drove the attackers off at daybreak after three hours of fighting. U.S. Headquarters said the bodies of 12 of the enemy were found just outside the American lines and 14 weapons were captured.

One American was killed and 12 were wounded.

Military spokesmen said in the other attacks one American and nine South Vietnamese were killed, and nine Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Sixty-five rockets and mortar rounds hit U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military complex north of Saigon.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

No new incidents were reported inside the DMZ.

In the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong shells hit a base camp of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division in Dong Tam, 35 miles southwest of Saigon. Light damage and casualties were reported.

The South Vietnamese spokesman said there now have been 74 rocket and mortar attacks on population centers since President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1. He said 33 civilians have been killed and 192 wounded in the attacks.

Any proposals of the committee face an uncertain future in the 1969 Legislature.

The committee proposals on income tax likely will include abolishing city income taxes when and if a county-wide income tax is enforced.

Even though the proposal calls for county income taxes some form of state-level administration may be needed to play the role of overseer.

This could bring about some alterations in the present county budget commissions which allot state monies to local governments.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Clerk W. Pat Jennings says the names of 21 campaign fund-raising committees, 20 of them Republican, that filed late financial reports have been sent to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The committees' treasurers, Jennings said Tuesday, "did not comply with the time requirements as set forth in the Federal Anti-Corrupt Practices Act."

With a change of administration less than two months away, it appeared likely enforcement of the statute's provisions would be left to Clark's successor.

Reports to the House Clerk are required 10 days and again five days before the election.

The 20 GOP committees listed by Jennings raised nearly all the $14.6 million reported by President-elect Richard M. Nixon's campaign supporters so far.

The one Democratic committee was the National Coordinating Committee for Humphrey, a Cincinnati, Ohio, group that was not officially associated with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's national campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Craig, presently of Columbus and formerly of Circleville, are the parents of a 6-pound 7-ounce son born Tuesday in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

MASTER LEACH
Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Leach of Hurricane, W. Va., former Circleville residents, are the parents of a 9-pound 4-ounce son. Mrs. Leach is the former Nancy Bozman and Mr. Leach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Grooms, Route 4.

MASTER WALTER
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walter of Xenia are the parents of a 6-pound 7-ounce son born Friday at Green Memorial Hospital, Xenia. Mrs. Walter is the former Bonnie Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin H. Layton, Route 1.

As the car entered the bridge it began to slide to the left. Coming out of the bridge the car struck a ditch on the left side. The wheels hit a sewer pipe in the ditch causing the car to flip over on its top.

No citations were issued by the sheriff's department.

$25 Boxer Puppy Stolen From Pen
A boxer puppy valued at $25 was stolen from his pen at the A-W Trailer Court sometime Tuesday afternoon.

Joseph Ogan, owner of the puppy, told sheriff's deputies that he had placed two puppies in the pen of his yard about 2 p.m. When he returned at 9 p.m. the one pup was gone.

Nothing else was disturbed, according to the sheriff's report. The incident is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Other motorists paid fines, costs and bond forfeitures totaling $129 for traffic violations.

Gallaghers Moved To Ashtabula

B. J. GALLAGHER

Brian J. Gallagher, 2075 Chippewa Drive, has been transferred to Ashtabula according to DuPont officials of the construction division.

Gallagher's transfer is effective today. He and his family moved here in October of 1966 from a California DuPont construction site.

A cost accountant with DuPont's construction department, Gallagher will be assigned to the Ashtabula post for one year. DuPont is reportedly constructing a plant for the Sherwin Williams Co. in Ashtabula.

Gallagher and his wife Mary, who was a receptionist for a local dentist, were active in the Roundtown Players theater group while stationed here. They were also members of St. Joseph's Church.

The Gallaghers have two sons, Martin and Damian.

Shootout Brings Negro Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van, which had "Black Panther — Black Community News Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Paloo, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Lt. Dermott Creedon, 49, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation

"into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creedon and Flynn remained in critical condition today. Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Creedon.

Lt. Michael O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an alleyway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the hand, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

The other officers with O'Mahoney ran to the van. "Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and I covered them with my gun and ordered them back in and locked them in," said officer John Hanifan.

The gunfire brought other officers running from the nearby Hall of Justice. Those arrested included Ray Lewis, 28, of San Francisco, editor of the Black Panther, the militant Negro group's publication.

Gallaghers Moved To Ashtabula

B. J. GALLAGHER

Brian J. Gallagher, 2075 Chippewa Drive, has been transferred to Ashtabula according to DuPont officials of the construction division.

Gallagher's transfer is effective today. He and his family moved here in October of 1966 from a California DuPont construction site.

A cost accountant with DuPont's construction department, Gallagher will be assigned to the Ashtabula post for one year. DuPont is reportedly constructing a plant for the Sherwin Williams Co. in Ashtabula.

Gallagher and his wife Mary, who was a receptionist for a local dentist, were active in the Roundtown Players theater group while stationed here. They were also members of St. Joseph's Church.

The Gallaghers have two sons, Martin and Damian.

Car Stolen Here Found In Marion

A car stolen from the General Electric parking lot at about 2:50 p.m. Tuesday was recovered in Marion at 9 p.m., Circleville Police said today.

The car, owned by Peter J. Pharr, 480 Stella Ave., was discovered missing by its owner at 6:30 p.m. when he got off work at the local GE plant.

Two juveniles from Marion were apprehended at the time the car was recovered by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Circleville Police recovered a car stolen from Dayton yesterday. Authorities believe the youths had taken the vehicle from Dayton, abandoned it here and took Pharr's car.

CITY Police actually saw the two youths driving Pharr's car, but at the time did not know it was being stolen.

The city officers had received a call at about 2:40 p.m. reporting the two young boys had been seen driving a car in the area of the Bible College and General Electric. They were acting suspiciously.

An officer was dispatched to the area and saw the two boys in the car stolen from the GE parking lot. The car was not reported stolen, however, until nearly four hours later.

Franc, Dollar And Pound All In Trouble

LONDON (AP) — The leading finance ministers of the Western world hurried to Bonn today to try to halt the second major crisis in the international monetary system this year.

Most Western money markets were shut to check speculators' attacks on major Western currencies.

With the money exchanges closed, the speculators switched to gold and sent its price soaring.

Many financial experts in London considered the present emergency even more serious than the March gold crisis because three of the world's principal trading currencies—the French franc, the pound sterling and the dollar—were simultaneously under attack by the speculators.

The crisis was sparked by belief that a devaluation of the franc and a revaluation upward of the West German Deutschmark—the world's strongest currency—were imminent. Speculators rushed to change francs for marks and the fever soon spread to include both the pound and the dollar. But the franc was hardest hit.

In an attempt to check the flight to the mark, the West German government announced that it would not revalue the currency but instead was making tax changes to reduce the large foreign trade surplus responsible for the expectation of revaluation.

In what London's Financial Times called a "backdoor revaluation," the Bonn government said it would reduce its tax on imports and the tax rebate it pays on exports. This should reduce the flow of West German exports and increase imports, resulting in a reduction of the surplus trade balance.

To strengthen confidence in the franc, the French National Assembly approved Premier Maurice Couve de Murville's proposal to reduce 1969 budget expenditures $400 million, which he said would cut the deficit for the year to $1.88 billion. The premier called the cut a "first leg" but gave no indication what spending programs would suffer.

To give the governments a breathing space while the financial community evaluated these measures, the French government closed all financial markets today. West German markets were closed because the day is a national holiday, and the British government ordered the London foreign exchange market closed.

West German Economics Minister Karl Schiller called an emergency meeting in Bonn today of the "Group of 10," the finance ministers of Belgium, Britain, Canada, France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Japan, Sweden and the United States. U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler already was there, taking a roundabout route back to Washington from the NATO meeting in Brussels last week. But the United States so far appeared to be taking only a standby role in the crisis.

Communist Gunners Shell U.S. Units, 5 Towns, City

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners stepped up their rocket and mortar attacks Tuesday night, giving Da Nang its heaviest pounding in three months and hitting two American infantry units, five district towns and one provincial capital.

Casualties and damage generally were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 150 enemy soldiers hurting grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Artillery and gunships drove the attackers off at daybreak after three hours of fighting. U.S. Headquarters said the bodies of 12 of the enemy were found just outside the American lines and 14 weapons were captured.

One American was killed and 12 were wounded.

Military spokesmen said in the other attacks one American and nine South Vietnamese were killed, and nine Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Sixty-five rockets and mortar rounds hit U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military complex north of Saigon.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

No new incidents were reported in the DMZ.

In the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong shells hit a base camp of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division in Dong Tam, 35 miles southwest of Saigon. Light damage and casualties were reported.

The South Vietnamese spokesman said there now have been 74 rocket and mortar attacks on population centers since President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1. He said 33 civilians have been killed and 192 wounded in the attacks.

County-Level Income Tax Seen In Commission Paper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tax reform proposals of a legislative committee studying tax revision are expected to include a required county-level income tax and some alterations in the personal property tax structure.

Rep. Albert Sealy of Dayton, chairman of the committee which has studied the state's tax structure for 18 months, is to disclose the proposals at a news conference here Thursday.

He declined to discuss the report in advance of the conference.

Legislative leaders talked of some kind of state-wide income tax to a gathering of businessmen last week. This prompted Gov. James A. Rhodes to reiterate his opposition to a state-wide income tax. He has contended this area of taxation should be left to local governments.

However, Rhodes said he would have to study proposals for a county level income tax before commenting.

One purpose of the committee was to seek ways to ease ad valorem taxes but it apparently failed to find immediate relief in this area. Any easing of real estate taxes may come by a slowing down of tax increases as other tax sources produce revenue to take over a tax burden.

Any proposals of the committee face an uncertain future in the 1969 Legislature.

The committee proposals on income tax likely will include abolishing city income taxes when and if a county-wide income tax is enforced.

Even though the proposal calls for county income taxes some form of state-level administration may be needed to play the role of overseer.

This could bring about some alterations in the present county budget commissions which allots state monies to local governments.

Late Report List Given To Clark

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Clerk W. Pat Jennings says the names of 21 campaign fund-raising committees, 20 of them Republican, that filed late financial reports have been sent to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The committees' treasurers, Jennings said Tuesday, "did not comply with the time requirements as set forth in the Federal Corrupt Practices Act."

With a change of administration less than two months away, it appeared likely enforcement of the statute's provisions would be left to Clark's successor.

Reports to the House Clerk are required 10 days and again five days before the election.

The 20 GOP committees listed by Jennings raised nearly all the $14.6 million reported by President-elect Richard M. Nixon's campaign supporters so far.

The one Democratic committee was the National Coordinating Committee for Humphrey, a Cincinnati, Ohio, group that was not officially associated with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's national campaign.

TV Show Cast Due In City For Filming

The entire cast of the WTVN-TV show, "Dialing For Dollars," will visit Circleville on Friday.

The purpose of the group's public appearance will be to film a color featurette saluting Circleville which will be a highlight on the Dialing For Dollars show to be telecast 9 a.m. Monday, Nov. 25.

The first stop for the members of the cavalcade will be at 12:00 noon at Pickaway Arms Restaurant where they will meet, greet and film the folks on hand for their arrival, and then have lunch with some of the city's leading dignitaries, including the mayor. Following the luncheon, the group will travel around town filming point of interest and visiting with the local citizenry.

In the WTVN-TV motorcade will be Gene Fullen, host of Dialing For Dollars, his sidekick Dick DePalma, the Andy Leamer Trio, Rhon Crowe, director and producer of the show, and Gail Finlay, the show's Girl Friday and hostess on channel six's Pinbuster show.

after a third reading with Councilmen Boyd Horn and Noble Barr voting against it, Councilmen Harold Clifton, John Jenkins and David Crawford voting in favor of it and Councilman Goldschmidt abstaining.

Under the rules of procedure followed by Council, an abstaining vote is cast with the majority — in this case in favor of the ordinance.

An ordinance appropriating $12,970 for installation of new traffic lights on state highways within the city limits was held to a second reading last night.

Council passed five appropriation ordinances Tuesday. The ordinances appropriated $1,500 for the police department gas and oil and maintenance and repair funds; $500 for the street construction and maintenance gasoline and oil fund; $300 for the engineering account of the service department; $1,300 for insurance account to pay premiums on city owned vehicles; $250 to employ an additional clerk typist for the city police department for a one month period.

THE council also passed two ordinances dealing with the re-issuance of bonds to finance the city's Northend Storm Sewer System.

These two ordinances were also introduced by the city finance committee. Finance Chairman Goldschmidt explained to council that the bonds were due and since there was no income yet from assessments, the bonds had to be renewed.

"The ordinances are normal procedure under the circumstances," Goldschmidt said. He asked council to pass them immediately because of a delay in preparing them.

The first ordinance permitted the city to issue $205,000 in bonds at 4 1/2 per cent interest to pay off the bonds that are due. The second ordinance, authorized the city solicitor to obtain legal assistance from the Cleveland law firm of Squire, Saunders and Dempsey, municipal bond attorneys. Fee for the legal aid rendered by the firm was set at $325.

COUNCIL BRIEFS
Councilman Keith Wagner was not present for the meeting last night. He has been admitted to Berger Hospital as a medical patient.

Councilman Boyd Horn, when called upon for reports to council, told his fellow legislators that he "did not have much to report but I have a lot to complain about on these leaves blowing around and the holes in streets and alleys."

Councilman Goldschmidt told council he had received an answer from the state auditor concerning a requested increase in salary by Municipal Court Judge Lamb. The judge requested the increase because of the establishment of the small claims court.

Goldschmidt said the state auditor said the establishment of the small claims division did not automatically entitle the judge to a pay increase. However, Goldschmidt said the judge was underpaid and steps will be taken to provide him with an increase next year.

Councilman John Jenkins reported that the safety director is studying the traffic condition at the Kroger Shopping Center on the Lancaster Pike in regards to making three lane intersections within the city where there are no stop signs.

A communication from the bureau of motor vehicles was read by Council Clerk Robert Shadley, acknowledging the $5 license tax levied by the city.

During a brief recess, councilmen discussed vacating a narrow strip of land along Scioto St. near Main St. Council had been asked to give the property to Mrs. Helen Smith, since it had for years been maintained by the owners and occupants of the building on the southeast corner of the intersection.

An oil firm is reportedly interested in purchasing the property to build a service station, and wants title to the land in question so they will have an access to the station from Scioto St.

Councilmen decided the city should deal directly with the oil firm should the land be sold.

Mayor . . .

and expected to increase and expand its services. This requires additional resources. He pointed out that council realized the need for additional revenue when it passed the permissive auto license tax. This tax provides additional revenue for the city's streets.

The budget of 1969 is a bare bones, no frills one, but it also one which can reflect the needs of today as much as can be allowed, the mayor stated.

The projected budget is a balanced one which can be reviewed and up dated and reconsidered when additional revenue becomes available, the mayor told council.

He emphasized that the budget should not be considered sufficient for the city's needs. The budget does not allow the city to do much more than it has in the past, he said.

IT sets up a modest amount for the beginning of a recreation program.

It sets up the minimum amount to employ the building code official. It includes provisions to continue updating of fire hydrants and traffic lights at an accelerated pace. There is also a modest amount to continue the up grading of the street lighting program.

To maximize the usefulness of the revenue to be derived from the license plate tax, the mayor urged council to use the funds to finance a street improvement revenue bond. This would then allow an immediate and large amount of money for the streets.

He also specifically requested that the wage schedules proposed in the budget be adopted and that additional personnel be approved. If the wage schedules are adopted this year, it is proposed by the mayor that a graduated wage table be adopted based on seniority and merit and that wage increases be granted according to the schedule.

Police . . .

manpower to handle the job," Adkins told council.

He extended an invitation to all council members to ride anytime day or night with the police.

The safety director emphasized that the low salary paid policemen is the only reason there are no applicants for the job.

"The men we have are dedicated. Since February, I have taken most of my time to help these men out. Now it's up to you," he said as he closed his plea for a better paid, larger police force.

Accident Caused By Cattle On Road

A car was demolished and two Hereford cattle injured in an accident on Circleville-Tarlton Road about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Berkley Faulkner Jr., 35, Route 4, told sheriff's deputies that he was eastbound on Circleville-Tarlton Road about one mile east of Route 56 when his car crested a rise and he saw a herd of cattle in the road.

Faulkner stated that he tried to slow down and avoid hitting the cattle but was unsuccessful.

One of the cattle, owned by Festus Dresbach of Route 1, had to be slaughtered following the accident. The other animal received only minor injuries in the accident. Faulkner was not hurt.

There were no citations issued by the sheriff's department.

Hunter Forfeits Bond

Victor Grover, Columbus, forfeited a $29 bond posted in Circleville Municipal Court for a hunting violation.

Grover was cited by the Division of Wildlife for shooting a game bird from the road.

Deaths

MR. CURTIS E. ARMSTRONG

Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Curtis E. Armstrong, 85, who died Nov. 15, in Cincinnati.

He was the son of the late George B. and Sarah Ann Dunkel Armstrong of Salt Creek Twp. Mr. Armstrong was a 1907 graduate of the Ohio State University Law School and Comptroller of the city of Birmingham, Ala. for 40 years.

His wife, the former Nolene Strawser, preceded him in death in August, 1966.

Survivors include one daughter and son-in-law, Leola and Robert P. Myers, Cincinnati; one grandson; one brother, George H. Armstrong of Salt Creek Twp.; four sisters, Mrs. Orland (Kathryn) DeLong, Salt Creek Twp.; Mrs. Alford (Maude) Walker, Hilliard; Mrs. J. M. (Florence) Boecher, of Hallsville, and Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Bitzer of Columbus, and numerous nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Birmingham at Elwood Cemetery on Monday.

MARK PATTON

Chief Warrant Officer Mark Patton, 23, of Mt. Orab, was killed at Ft. Rutger, Ala., where he was a flight instructor. He had previously served a 12-month tour of duty in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patton of Mt. Orab and a nephew of Floyd Mount, Route 1, Stoutsville.

Memorial services will be held Thursday at Ft. Rutger. Services and burial will be held later at Mt. Orab.

Claim U.S. Blocks Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda accused the United States today of blocking the Vietnam peace talks and demanded that it get them started.

The Communist party newspaper, which reflects the official Soviet viewpoint, also called for an end to U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam, calling them "provocative overflights."

The article noted that the United States had stopped bombing North Vietnam nearly three weeks ago but since then had made no further progress toward peace.

The Soviet Union, which welcomed the bombing halt as a favorable step toward peace, has recently shown signs of impatience over delay of the Paris peace talks because of South Vietnam's objections.

The official press has urged the United States to put pressure on the South Vietnamese to go to the peace table.

Icy Bridge Causes Accident, Area Woman Hurt

A Circleville woman was injured in a one car accident Tuesday when her car went out of control on an ice covered bridge on Route 104.

Marilyn Bowers, 42, of 479 N. Court St., was referred to a doctor by Chief Sheriff's Deputy George Linder. She was suffering from an injury to her arm and back.

Mrs. Bowers told the deputy that she was northbound on Route 104 about one mile south of Route 762 at 9 a.m. Tuesday when she lost control of her car while crossing a bridge. She stated that it had been snowing heavily and that the bridge surface was covered with snow.

As the car entered the bridge it began to slide to the left. Coming out of the bridge the car struck a ditch on the left side. The wheels hit a sewer pipe in the ditch causing the car to flip over on its top.

No citations were issued by the sheriff's department.

$25 Boxer Puppy

Stolen From Pen

A boxer puppy valued at $25 was stolen from his pen at the A-W Trailer Court sometime Tuesday afternoon.

Joseph Ogan, owner of the puppy, told sheriff's deputies that he had placed two puppies in the pen of his yard about 2 p.m. When he returned at 9 p.m. the one pup was gone.

Nothing else was disturbed, according to the sheriff's report. The incident is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Kingston News Report

Mr. and Mrs. Russell England visited George Radabaugh at Riverside Hospital, Columbus, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker Jr. and son, Joe, Kingston, Route 1, were guests of Children's Hospital, Columbus last Tuesday for a Seminar in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation which was held in Starling-Loving Hall at Ohio State University. With 16-year-old Joe for their subject, Dr. Powers and Dr. Waylonis, resident doctors in Physical Medicine at Ohio State University and the nurses gave a history of Joe's stay in the hospital from Sept. 15, 1967 to Dec. 15, through his complete rehabilitation.

Joe suffered serious injuries in a motorcycle-car accident and was unconscious for 19 days. He also suffered compound fractures of the left arm and leg and although he left the hospital in a wheel chair, he was back on his feet about the first of the year. He is now in the 11th grade at Logan Elm High School, thanks mainly to a lot of grit and determination and understanding parents.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather bureau summary for Ohio:

Wintry weather swept into Ohio Tuesday. Snow flurries were general across the state but significant accumulations were confined to the northeast portion. Snowfall amounts in the Cleveland area northeast-ward ranged from 2 to 5 inches.

The large low pressure area responsible for the cold, windy conditions continues to move northeastward, and the strong winds will gradually diminish through Thursday.

Snow flurries were still occur-ring over the state this morn-ing and some locally heavy snow squalls were expected in the northeast near Lake Erie today. The flurries should end in the southwest this afternoon or evening.

Skies will begin clearing over the southwest tonight but snow flurries will probably continue northeast until Thursday morn-ing. Low temperatures tonight will be in the low to mid 20s.

A warming trend should get under way Thursday as winds turn to southerly.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Cloudy, windy and cold today with snow flurries ending south and west but con-tinuing northeast along with locally heavy snow squalls near Lake Erie. High today in 30s. Clearing south and west, snow flurries northeast tonight and colder, low in low to mid 30s.

Welfare, Food Stamp Plan Objects Of Rule, Lawsuits

WASHINGTON (AP) — In-volved investigations about wel-fare eligibility will be replaced by simple statements of need under a proposed federal rule.

On another poverty front, pri-vate lawsuits were announced in 26 states Tuesday to extend fed-eral food programs to nearly all the estimated 500 counties that do not now have them.

All 50 states would be re-quired to base eligibility for five federal welfare programs on po-tential recipients' statements of need under a proposed rule published today in the Federal Register.

It would become effective in 30 days, giving interested people time to comment on it.

Welfare roles may grow tem-porarily because eligible people will be able to get on them fast-er, said Stephen Simonds, di-rector of the U.S. Assistance Pay-ments Administration.

But he said the 22 states al-ready using the procedure have found the number of ineligible people getting on roles to be no greater, and sometimes lower, than the 1 1/2 per cent average for all welfare programs.

Investigations still would be conducted in suspicious cases and applicants claiming disabil-ities still would have to get med-ical certification.

Programs affected would in-clude Medicaid, old age assist-ance, aid to families with de-pendent children, aid to the blind and aid for the perman-ently disabled.

The lawsuits seeking either federal food stamp or Commod-ity Distribution programs in hun-dreds of counties contend that depriving food because of a per-son's place of residence is un-constitutional, violating the equal protection clause.

"We're claiming hunger is illegal in the United States," at-torney Gabe Kaimowitz said in announcing the suits.

He said the suits, coordinated by the Center on Social Welfare Policy and Law based at Colum-bia University, are against the Department of Agriculture, which administers both federal food programs.

The 26 target states named were California, Colorado, Flor-ida, Indiana, Idaho, Iowa, Kan-sas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, New York, Ohio, Okla-homa, Rhode Island, South Da-kota, Tennessee, Texas and Vir-ginia.

Appeal Decision In Draft Lawsuit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Palmer C. Parsons, 23, Tuesday lost one court battle to prevent the Selective Service System from drafting him Thursday but will appeal the decision today.

Parsons of suburban Willough-by Hills told U.S. District Court Judge James C. Connell he was the key link in the family busi-ness of Parsons Dust Collector Systems, Inc., and if he were drafted it would cause extreme hardship.

But the judge ruled induction was a question for the draft board, not the court and dis-missed the case.

where in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Addressing the National Urban League here Tuesday night, Johnson called on government, business and labor as well as the news media and schools to give all Americans what he called "the right to opportunity."

He said, "we can expand our economy and resist those voices who call for a little more unemployment as medicine for inflation"—an indirect criticism of some economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon who have said an increase in unemployment would help fight inflation.

"I promise you one thing," Johnson said. "For as long as I live, I shall remain joined with you in fighting for that right to opportunity."

Johnson made his remarks, which were relatively short and valedictory in tone, in an address at the New York Hilton Hotel to the 12th annual Equal Opportunity Days awards dinner of the Urban League, an organization devoted to the promotion of civil rights.

Whitney M. Young, executive director of the league, announced at the meeting the establishment of a $100,000 Lyndon Baines Johnson scholarship fund to annually aid a "deserving black youngster" studying public affairs.

Cuban Economy Worsens

Cuba 10 years after the revolution which brought a communist regime to power is changing, but not for the better.

The average Cuban today spends more for less food than ever. Official figures are non-existent, but it is known the average Cuban spends nearly half his income for food, and there is not much variety available.

But there is not much else for Cubans to buy. Much of the goods produced in Cuba are needed for export to earn hard currency. There is little left for Cuban consumers.

Despair, higher costs and lower living standards — these are the results of Cuba's first decade under communism.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Early in the 1960s the most frequent topic in executive speeches was business-government relations. Today, just as clearly, the subject is the social responsibilities of business.

Although not an infallible guide, executive speeches by their nature do tend to reveal what businessmen consider most pressing or disturbing or most worthwhile.

The first topic resulted from business anger at what it considered to be interference by the Kennedy administration in the market place, specifically in the pricing of goods, an area which business felt to be its own alone.

The remarks were consistent: government and business should not intrude into each other's areas. Each had its role, and if they were to play these roles effectively they had best keep out of each other's sandbox.

The second topic shows how much business' attitude has changed in these few years, for in concerning itself with social progress, business is taking on a role that customarily has been handled by government.

Among the projects: restoring the core cities, improving education, reducing water-air-sound pollution, training dropouts — all areas of endeavor by corporations with a growing social awareness.

Although some of the problems are indeed business-created, seldom in the past has business on a large scale attempted to seek solution, for that was considered the job of government.

Broadly speaking, there are two categories in which business is participating:

—First, as a corporate citizen concerned with the environment in which business exists and resolved to do something about it, even if it cuts into profits temporarily.

The insurance industry has pledged $1 billion toward the rehabilitation of core cities, for example, not unaware that if it doesn't improve its own neighborhoods it eventually will fail to obtain the clerks and secretaries it needs.

Just a few years ago many companies risked irritating stockholders by involving themselves. A reliable poll now shows 65 per cent of stockholders feel corporations should participate in the war on poverty.

Surprising to some companies, unexpected profits sometimes do result from activities in the social area. One company after another expresses surprise today at how training programs for dropouts are easing their labor shortage.

—Secondly, in search of profits. Perhaps belatedly, business has learned that there is money to be made in pollution control, in education, in slum rehabilitation.

The discovery, although new to most businessmen, was foreseen years ago by David Lilienthal, former chairman of both the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lilienthal founded and now heads a private concern, Development and Resources Corp., that has been making healthy profits in areas once thought to be the sole responsibility of government.

Mrs. Platz had misplaced her very new, very skimpy bikini and asked Mr. Platz if he had seen it. "I can't say I have," chuckled Mr. Platz, "but I DID see a very fat moth fluttering around."

One of Hollywood's hard-to-please producers invited a writer to be his guest at lunch, but stamped out of four restaurants in a row because he deemed the food served him far below his minimum requirements. The writer, famished, finally bid him a fond farewell and headed for the nearest hamburger emporium. As he was rounding the corner, the producer hollered to him, "Hey! How about being my guest again at dinner this evening?"

OVERHEARD: "Wife (at bridge party): 'I must be getting old. My husband's making it faster than I can spend it.'"
Chairman of the Board (at angry directors' meeting): "Would you gentlemen mind VERY much if I put my fifty-one-and-a-half per cent's worth in?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How does one develop womb, there is a marked enlargement of the small intestine as it joins the stomach. For some strange and yet unaccountable reason this appears about four times as often in the male as it does in the female.

The diagnosis is very readily made because of the inability of the new-born child to retain food and because it is forcefully expelled shortly after eating. The child does not absorb food readily and does not continue to gain the weight normally expected from week to week.

X-ray examination, done by giving the child a swallow of barium followed by an X-ray picture, clearly demonstrates the obstruction. The enlarged muscle can actually be felt through the thin walls of the newborn baby's abdomen.

Once the diagnosis is made, there is unfortunately no alternative other than surgery in almost all cases. Rarely can this obstruction be treated with drugs; in fact these may in themselves be dangerous because the simple surgery can be delayed too long.

The operation is usually performed within the first few weeks of life to prevent malnutrition. Surgery is so quickly performed and is so safe that the operation should not be put off without incurring unnecessary complications. Recovery is rapid and within a few days the child begins to develop and grow normally.

Passengers Back From Cuba Trip

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Seventeen passengers and five crew members returned to Mexico City aboard their Mexican airliner Monday after a man holding a package he said was dynamite hijacked the plane to Havana.

Among the passengers were four Americans and three Canadians. The Americans were listed as J. Taylor and A. Gomez of Tampa, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Culhane of Baltimore, Md. The three Canadians, all from Toronto, were identified as Walter Olson and Ivone and Robert during the baby's growth in the Merler.

Is it possible for a new-born baby to have an obstruction of the intestines?
A rather unusual condition, technically known as pyloric stenosis, occurs in the newborn. Due to some malformation of the baby's growth in the Merler.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

American women haven't lost all their old-fashioned skills. Some 41 million still enjoy sewing at home, and they use $800 million worth of fabrics a year.

What will Lyndon Johnson do after he leaves office? George Washington and Andrew Jackson became farmers. Three remained in public office—John Quincy Adams as a congressman, Andrew Johnson as U.S. senator, William Howard Taft as U.S. chief justice. Most others simply retired or turned to writing or the practice of law.

Most unusual was Rutherford B. Hayes—he became a philanthropist.

Tip to autumn motorists: Beware of speeding on fallen leaves. When frost forms under them, they can be as slippery as glare ice.

Many people are afraid to ride in airplanes, but a few still also are afraid to travel by railroad. They suffer from siderophobia, the fear of trains.

The pill may be only the first of new ways to reduce the birth rate. A Boston physiologist, Dr. Melvin M. Ketchel, predicts that within five to 15 years methods will be found to control chemically the fertility of entire populations. For example: the chemical could be put in a public water supply—but how soon would the voters approve of that?

Quotable notables: "Every woman should have three husbands. I want you to know there's not one rich man in this country I could not have married sooner or later."—Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Complicated: The command area of the Apollo spacecraft has about 15 miles of wiring—enough for 50 ordinary homes—but it uses only 2,000 watts of power; less than a housewife employs to bake a cake in a modern electric stove.

Underground bargain: Lester B. Dill, operator of the Maramba Caverns in Missouri, turned down $5 million for his hole in the ground, a famed tourist mecca. Thirty years ago he bought it for $30,000.

Tidbits about names in the news: Johnny Carson, television star, has eight color sets and 16 telephones in his duplex apartment—and fur rugs, no less. For $150 you can have dinner in the British mansion of the Duke and Duchess of Bedford and sleep overnight. Herbert Kastle, author of the sizzling novel, "The Movie Maker," is a dedicated distance runner—likes to jog up to 10 miles daily.

Civilization yet may turn into a dump heap. In 1940 you probably had to throw away two pounds of rubbish a day from your home; now the figure is up to four or five pounds. The daily output of U.S. garbage today, says the National Geographic, would fill a freight train stretching almost from Boston to New York.

Worth remembering: "Frustration is when a girl puts her bra on backwards—and it fits!"
Pumping problem: Because of its long neck, the giraffe has a blood pressure of about 360mm—three times that of the average man. You'd have high blood pressure, too, if your head was seven feet below your heart when you bent over for a drink and 12 feet above it when you reached up to nip food off a tree.

Quickie facts: Alaska has no snakes. A scallop has 40 blue eyes—and no brown ones. The newest gimmick among office status seekers is an attache case emblazoned with their family coat of arms. Only about 200,000 U.S. women hold jobs that pay them more than $10,000 a year.

It was Benjamin Franklin who observed, "The way to be safe is never to be secure."

Lilienthal founded and now heads a private concern, Development and Resources Corp., that has been making healthy profits in areas once thought to be the sole responsibility of government.

a capable Administrator in the Department of Defense, but Scoop Jackson would be closer to the "essential Nixon."

At present, two of Nixon's economic advisers, Arthur Burns and Milton Friedman, are telling him that he had better get the dollar under control now even at the peril of a mild downturn. Failure to halt inflation in 1969, they say, will lead to much greater trouble after 1970, when political realities might dictate a move to the "new economics" of full employment no matter what the worth of the dollar. Since we deem this good advice, why not Dr. Burns for Secretary of the Treasury? Or, if Nixon thinks it necessary to recognize Rockefeller influence, why not David Rockefeller, the Chase Manhattan Bank fellow, for the Treasury post, with Burns as a close colleague?

Nixon forged part of his election majority in the Plains states and in the corn-and-hog areas east of the Mississippi. He must have a good Secretary of Agriculture if he hopes for a second term. Fortunately, there is Don Paarlberg, who once served Eisenhower in one of the assistants' slots in Agriculture. Paarlberg now teaches at Purdue in Indiana, he is sound on general economics, and if he can't solve the farm crisis nobody can.

If there must be a liberal Democrat in the Nixon Cabinet, why not Daniel (Pat) Moynihan, who was responsible for such remarkable analyses of our central city decay for a Democratic Administration that never quite appreciated him. Moynihan runs socially with the Schlesingers and the Galbraiths, but he has been enjoying himself by telling his liberal friends that they ought, on occasion, to listen to conservatives about the need to decentralize such things as urban renewal. Moynihan would make a good Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, provided that Nixon's old friend, Lieutenant Governor Bob Finch of California, would prefer to be Attorney General or to stay on as Ronald Reagan's understudy in Sacramento. Finch, of course, has special qualifications for Health, Education and Welfare, for he has helped California solve its ghetto problems by bringing private enterprise into the picture.

Since the general collapse of the New Haven Railroad, New England has had to think long and hard about improving U.S. transportation. So why not Governor John Volpe of Massachusetts for Nixon's transportation man in the Cabinet? He would have a special "back home" incentive for getting the U.S. moving again on the ground as well as in the air.

I hope, when the Nixon Cabinet is finally chosen, that this list won't be considered as a test of my prophetic ability. The choices thrown out here are my own, though they have all been mentioned by one or more of the people who have worked for Nixon throughout the campaign.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How does one develop cystitis?

Cystitis is an infection of the urinary bladder. The noun suffix "itis" always means infection or inflammation of the organ whose name precedes it. Appendicitis, colitis, nephritis all mean infection of that particular organ.

Germs or bacteria such as the streptococcus, the staphylococcus, the colon bacillus and a number of other germs can enter the bladder in both the male and female through the urethra, the tiny tube through which urine passes to the outside. Occasionally the bladder can become infected when there is kidney infection or an infection of the intestinal tract.

The bladder is a hollow organ located low in the pelvis. Because of its muscular walls it distends and contracts depending on the amount of urine it is holding. When it overdistends it causes the urgent feeling to empty the bladder.

The same sense of urgency may be caused by an infection or irritation of the lining of the bladder during an attack of cystitis. There may be a constant feeling of the need to empty the bladder, and even when this is done the feeling remains. Along with it may come an itching or burning sensation.

The urine may contain germs, blood and pus cells until the infection is treated with modern antibiotics and especially the sulfa drugs. A bland diet with very little seasoning and the avoidance of alcohol in any form help to make the recovery complete within a few days. Early treatment prevents chronic changes in the wall of the bladder. Such changes can cause long-sustained discomfort.

Young girls and children must be taught how to clean themselves properly, after bowel movements to avoid introducing germs into the bladder and causing this unpleasant, but often not too serious condition.

Is it possible for a new-born baby to have an obstruction of the intestines?

A rather unusual condition, technically known as pyloric stenosis, occurs in the newborn. Due to some malformation during the baby's growth in the womb, there is a marked enlargement of the small intestine as it joins the stomach. For some strange and yet unaccountable reason this appears about four times as often in the male as it does in the female.

An effective organization was formed to combat the rash of chicken thievery that had taken place primarily in the areas of Lockbourne and Harrison, Madison and Walnut Twp. Roads were patrolled and poultry owners were prepared to shoot to kill or maim the culprits.

Glen L. Myers and Harold B. Rader purchased the interest of P. F. Mooney in the firm Myers and Mooney, funeral directors and dealers in musical instruments. The firm was known as Myers and Rader.

The Bargain Store advertised ladies' ribbed union suits — all styles at 98 cents.

A sample of mash found at the home of a local resident was taken to Columbus by Deputy Sheriff Irwin to be analyzed for its percentage of alcohol.

The Home Trade Co. at 104 E. Main St. closed out their entire stock of shoes and rubbers in a bankrupt sale.

The Klu Klux Klan organizations of the county preceded their meeting on the courthouse steps by a parade of Klansmen and Kamella sisters, Immel's band of Yellowbell and representative floats — One of which represented a home which carried a placard, "Protection of Pure Women." The illuminated fiery cross was a prominent feature of the affair.

Aura King and Mike Gregg announced the opening of a first class bakery and confectionery in the building leased from Pickaway bakery.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Circleville was organized with Mrs. Ida Graham, president.

Dear Abby:

All Else Fails, Try The Truth

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and have a beautiful baby whom my husband and I both adore. I was 6 months pregnant when I got married, but my husband and I are very much in love, and we are not ashamed of it. My problem is my mother. She is so ashamed of me that she's gone around saying we were "secretly" married for 6 months, and I guess some believe her and some don't. I just tell people the truth. We're going to a family wedding out of state soon and my mother says if she hears me tell anybody we were married in January and the baby was born in April she will take me bodily from the room. I told her I wasn't going to lie about it, but she has already lied so much she looks silly. Now she says I don't have the right to make a liar out of her. So what would you do?

NO LIAR
DEAR NO LIAR: If you have been telling people the truth, I doubt if your mother's story has fooled many. Don't volunteer any of the specific dates, but if you're pinned down, stick with the truth.

DEAR ABBY: Enclosed is a yellowed, dog-eared clipping from your column. It appeared about 3 years ago, and you can't imagine how much sustenance I've drawn from it over the years. It's been an "instant tranquilizer." Would you please run it again for mothers who may have missed it?

A READER
DEAR READER: With pleasure, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three daughters, ages 11, 13 and 15. These girls are driving me crazy! There is never a peaceful minute in this house. They are always fighting. When they were small they were constantly at each other's throats, but I thought they would get along better when they got older. Well, they've gotten worse, not better. We have done everything to teach them love and respect for each other, but we've failed. My husband still insists they will "outgrow" this hatred they seem to have for one another. Will they? If so, when?

GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: Be patient. Girls between 11 and 14 are generally stubborn, selfish and moody. They will become more reasonable and considerate of each other when they mature. Unfortunately by that time, they'll be ready to leave home. Sorry, Mother, but why should it be any different at your house?

DEAR ABBY: You've got to help me as I have nowhere else to turn.

My wife has left me. She went to live with our daughter. She caught me reading PLAYBOY magazine, also she found several of the clippings I had from PLAYBOY hidden around the house for my convenience.

Abby, I would never actually be untrue to my wife as all I can do is look and she knows it, but she says I have hurt her pride.

Tax Overhaul Report Slated For Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The long awaited report on how to overhaul Ohio's tax system will be made public here Thursday. The chairman of the Bipartisan Select Committee on Tax Revision of the Ohio House of Representatives, Rep. Albert Sealy R-84th, has called a 9:30 a.m. news conference at the Sheraton Hotel. Sealy's committee has conducted a year-long study on how to revise tax laws to ease the burden from property taxes. The report is expected to recommend legislation to the 1969 General Assembly which includes some type of tax on income.

French Officials, Students Eye Future

By BERNARD LAVALLEE
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP)—Education Ministry officials and the once rebellious French students are looking nervously at the future—and each other.

The students forced a radical reform program with their strike and street battles in May and June. After five months of standstill, university life is now resuming. Some 200,000 of the 600,000

Worst Litterbugs

NEW YORK (AP)—Young men are the nation's worst litterers, pollster George Gallup Jr. says. He told a luncheon meeting that a survey showed adults between 21 and 35 litter twice as much as those between 35 and 49 and three times as much as people over 50. "Men," he said, "are much more guilty of littering than women."

French university students already have returned to school. They apparently have not yet decided whether to go quietly back to work and accept the deep changes that resulted from their strike, or to continue their agitation until all demands are met.

The general feeling, both on campuses and in education Ministry circles, seems to be that the great majority of the students want to get back to real work. Still, there's pressure from extremists' groups who say the reforms are "limited," and consider them a maneuver to stop revolts like the one that made the nation tremble last spring.

There is some fear that the action of the extremists may spread to the moderate students if the new university program worked out by President Charles de Gaulle's government cannot be implemented quickly. Education Minister Edgar Faure has worked out a revolutionary law modifying the 150-year-old system. His reforms were based on two main principles: autonomy for each university and student participation in the college administrations.

The law aims at putting an end to both the centralization of teaching under the control of

Transport Studied

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Alfred E. Perlman, president of Penn Central railroad, says a truly national transportation system must be established to offset government regulation that he says is threatening the survival of the industry. He says the nation needs common, private ownership of various forms of transportation such as rails, air, sea and highway.

the minister and the authority of the teachers over the students. The bill was so radical that it first started a flurry of protests from the traditional-bound Gaullist group in the National Assembly.

But with De Gaulle's personal pressure, the bill eventually got through Parliament earlier this month without serious amendments. Only a few deputies abstained from voting.

Education Ministry officials admit there will be a long period of "experiments," and some of them privately reckon the implementation of the far reaching reforms may cost a year of study to some students.

On the other hand, authorities must reckon with the total opposition by the extremists who say no reform in the university is possible as long as there is no basic change in the social system. They demand total liberty on the campuses.

Officials say they are depending on the goodwill of the moderate students.

The government is also accelerating the election of school councils for secondary schools which will include pupil members.

Recount Requested In Warren County

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A recount, requested Tuesday by Mark Clark of Lebanon, will be made of votes cast in the Warren County prosecutor's race. Clark lost by 148 votes to Democrat James Ruppert of Franklin.

Clark, who has been an assistant to present Prosecutor John Oswald who did not seek reelection, asked specifically for a recount in 20 of the county's 59 precincts. The recount will start Tuesday.

'Green Medicine' Reviewed At Rader Circle Meeting

Mrs. Edwin Shane was guest speaker for the recent meeting of Rader Circle of the Community United Methodist Church in the home of Mrs. D. E. McDonald, Route 3. Mrs. Clark Smith, Mrs. Melvin Rinehart and Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Shane who reviewed the book "Green Medicine" by Margaret Krieg. The sub-title of the book is "The Search For Plants That Heal." The book emphasizes the investigation of the vegetable kingdom for new sources of botanical drugs, a matter of search in the jungle and research in the laboratory. Plant explorers search for promising plants, then a valuable extract is produced and the chemist takes over to come up with a variety of derivatives of natural products, and when promising leads are found these

Smith-Wickline Circle Plans For Christmas

Smith-Wickline Circle of Community United Methodist Church met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. O. J. Towers. Mrs. Arnold Moats and Mrs. Reynolds Howsman were assisting hostesses.

Mr. George Wickline conducted the meeting. Plans were made for the circle's participation in the annual Christmas dinner meeting of The Women's Society of Christian Service on Dec. 4 at 6:30 p.m. The members will stress Germany and its Christmas customs, carrying out the overall theme "Christmas Around the World." The Christmas offering will be presented to the work of South Side Settlement in Columbus.

Members were urged to participate in the "Hanging of the Greens" on Dec. 8, when all groups of the church will cooperate in decorating the church building for the holiday season.

Devotions were directed by Mrs. Reynolds Howsman. Mrs. Jerry Wolford, vice-president of the Women's Society, was a guest at the meeting and explained program plans for the coming year.

All women of the church were urged to sign the charter book in order to be charter members of the new society.

Mrs. R. R. Bales won the prize in a contest conducted by Mrs. Roliff Wolford.

Following the banquet the Chillicothe chapters sponsored a dance. Attending the dance from Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Shuttlesworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sealock.

Others attending the banquet were Mrs. Frances Lucas, Mrs. Ronald Gaines, Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Charles Curlett, Mrs. Charles Joffile, Mrs. Roger Thomas and Mrs. Leroy Kadov.

Five Points WCTU Meets In Neff Home

Five Points Women's Christian Temperance Union met recently in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Neff. Roll call was answered by members telling something they have to be thankful for.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, president, used as her devotion theme "A Charge to Keep." Scripture was read by Mrs. Neff followed by meditations and prayer.

"Lead on O King Eternal" was sung by the group and they discussed social service. Mrs. Loring Stoeer read "What Everyone Should Know About Alcohol." Laura Long read "Which Way" and Mrs. Clark McCafferty reviewed "Friendship LTL."

Mrs. Furniss presented "Alcohol—Outstanding Answers" and "Alcohol—Its Effect on the Brain." The group voted to send temperance literature to the Westfall School.

Cards of cheer were signed to be sent to Mrs. Etta Neff and Mrs. Harry Dick, members who were unable to attend.

The meeting was closed with the benediction and refreshments served by Mrs. Neff.

The December meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Loring Stoeer and will feature the annual Christmas Party.

Calvary Church Women's Society Holds Meeting

Women's Society of Christian Service of Calvary United Methodist Church held its November meeting recently in the church annex. Hostesses Mrs. Grace Goff and Mrs. Willis Flowers, served coffee and pastry to the 13 members and one guest present.

Mrs. W. C. Shastene opened the business session with prayer. Committee chairmen presented reports. Announcement was made that the Pickaway Social Club will meet Nov. 21 at the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Louise Anderson was received into the society as a new member. Members were reminded to mail Christmas cards to servicemen and servicewomen early.

The program entitled "Gratitude and Responsibility" was presented by Mrs. Manley Carothers. Scripture was read and reasons for being thankful were given.

The Thank Offering was taken at the close of the business session followed with prayer.

A sack lunch was held at noon and Mrs. Earl Milliron conducted a study class in the afternoon.

Mrs. Nelson Embrey Reviews Story For DAC

Mrs. Nelson Embrey, Lancaster, was guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting of Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists. The meeting was held at Shade's Restaurant in Canal Winchester with luncheon served at 12:30 p.m. to 21 members and two guests at tables decorated in the Thanksgiving theme.

Mrs. John F. Ney, regent, welcomed members and guests. Devotions were given by Mrs. Verne R. Silbaugh, chaplain, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. James Rapp.

Mrs. Scott Reynolds, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Embrey who reviewed 12 years of the life of Mrs. Peter Sterling and her son Peter Jefferson Sterling Jr. She stated that the son was born in Louisville, Ky., on March 20, 1947. He was shipwrecked at the age of six weeks with his mother Monica Brown Sterling, while flying across the ocean to join his father in Guam. Before the plane crumpled in the water Mrs. Sterling and her son were placed on a raft with packaged food and a canteen of water. When they reached an island natives cared for them.

Mrs. Embrey said that it was not the interesting story that the mother survived but the growth of her child. The mother started a school and organized a club which saved her sanity. One morning a ship was sighted and all the inhabitants went down to the shore. She explained to the two men on the ship how she and her son had been stranded for 12 years on the unidentified island about 200 nautical miles due north of the Hall Islands in the Carolines.

Mrs. Sterling sent her son with the men to Honolulu and she was later rescued by a British sea plane.

An offering was taken for the Veterans Administration Hospital in Chillicothe. A letter was read from a former member, Miss Harriet Herndon, who now lives at Lutheran Senior City in Columbus.

The meeting was closed with prayer by the chaplain. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Clarence Rowles, chairman; Mrs. Walter Brehm, Mrs. T. Leroy Cromley, Mrs. Calvin Lyon and Miss Christobel Converse.

Members attending from Circleville and Ashville were Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. W. A. Thomas, Mrs. Martin W. Cromley, Mrs. Leroy H. Cromley and Mrs. T. Leroy Cromley.

The group will hold its Christmas dinner on Dec. 12.

Food Surplus Problems Plague USDA Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — With more of the world's developing nations learning how to feed their hungry millions, the United States faces the problem of what to do with food surpluses.

This crunch in world supply and demand for farm products was underscored today in separate reports from the Agriculture Department and the Agency for International Development—AID.

In a summary of the quarterly wheat report, the Agriculture Department says indications carryover stocks next July 1 will be 600 million to 650 million bushels, compared with 537 million this year.

The preliminary report also said the department's 1968-69 export target of 750 million bushels "looks increasingly difficult to attain" and that exports definitely are not expected to match the 761 million shipped abroad last year.

The situation today first includes a problem of world plenty, the department said. The report stated there has been a slackening of imports by big customers in the world market, notably the Soviet Union and Red China. Food aid recipients, including India and Pakistan, also have reduced their requirements from previous levels.

"Thus, at least for the current year, the world not only has more than enough wheat for its needs, but the grain is so adequately distributed that trade expansion is not expected," the report said.

A speech by the administrator of the Agency for International Development offers an explanation for the excess in wheat and other products.

In a talk prepared for the International Development Conference, William S. Gaud cited India, Pakistan, Turkey and the Philippines among the nations that have launched a "green revolution" through the use of new high yielding seeds, better use of water and fertilizer and more effective economic policies to double and triple their yields of rice and wheat. He said the green revolution is more than a hope, it is now here in parts of east and south Asia and the Middle east. The question is whether it will be sustained and will spread, he added.

'Green Medicine' Reviewed At Rader Circle Meeting

Mrs. Edwin Shane was guest speaker for the recent meeting of Rader Circle of the Community United Methodist Church in the home of Mrs. D. E. McDonald, Route 3. Mrs. Clarke Smith, Mrs. Melvin Rinehart and Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Shane who reviewed the book "Green Medicine" by Margaret Krieg. The subtitle of the book is "The Search For Plants That Heal." The book emphasizes the investigation of the vegetable kingdom for new sources of botanical drugs, a matter of search in the jungle and research in the laboratory. Plant explorers search for promising plants, then a valuable extract is produced and the chemist takes over to come up with a variety of derivatives of natural products, and when promising leads are found these are developed and the result is the new drug after much research and expense.

Mrs. Rader presided at the business meeting. She stated that any member who was not present on the afternoon of the Charter Service and would still like to be listed as a charter member should sign the book at their earliest convenience.

The date of the Christmas Party at which all circles will be represented is Dec. 4 at 6:30 p.m. with a carry-in dinner at the church. Each circle was asked to choose some country as a theme for decorations and members were asked to prepare a dish of food that would apply to that particular country. The country chosen by Rader Circle was China. The offering taken at this Christmas meeting will be sent to the South Side Settlement. One member of the circle will assist in the kitchen and another member will give the closing prayer.

Mrs. Rader announced that Dec. 8 is the date for Hanging of the Greens at the church. Families are invited to attend.

Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer presented devotions by reading a poem by Helen Steiner Rice entitled "One Nation Under God" and repeating Psalm 1.

The January meeting will be in the home of Mrs. David Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave. Mrs. Richard Plum will be in charge of the program.

Cancer Clinic Scheduled For Monday

The Early Detection Cancer Clinic has now been in operation for about seven months in Pickaway County. The good response from women of the county indicates that the services of the clinic, free cancer check-ups for women of low income, were needed.

In a recent conversation, Mrs. Georgia Walker, Executive Secretary of the Pickaway County Cancer Society, explained that the clinic is the only one of its kind in the state of Ohio. It is unique in that it is staffed entirely by volunteers. The doctors, the nurses and all the clerical staff of the clinic donate their time and services completely free of charge.

It is also unusual in that it has been established specifically for women of low income families who otherwise might not be able to afford these extremely important checkups. Its aim is to reach the hard-to-reach.

The clinic is in operation on the second and fourth Mondays of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. at Berger Hospital. The next clinic night will be Monday, Nov. 25. If transportation is needed it may be arranged by calling 474-3014 or 474-6413.

Garden Club Council Tea, Program Set

Council of Pickaway Garden Clubs will sponsor a tea and program 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Service Center of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, 310 E. Main St., Circleville.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Joseph Phillips from Logan. She will use "Flower Show Quips and Quotes" and "Legend of the Madonna" for the program.

Each club is to bring two gifts for prizes and six dozen cookies. Hosting the event will be the Circleville Garden Club. Members are urged to bring guests.

Beta Sigma Phi Members Attend Fall Banquet

Members of the Circleville chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority attended the Fall Banquet Saturday evening given by the Chillicothe chapters at Valley House, Chillicothe.

The local chapter presented a "Laugh-In" skit for entertainment.

Mrs. John Konder received the Ritual of Jewels.

Others attending the banquet were Mrs. Frances Lucas, Mrs. Ronald Gaines, Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. Charles Curlett, Mrs. Charles Joffe, Mrs. Roger Thomas and Mrs. Leroy Kadow.

'Covered Look' On The Way For Swimwear Designers

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The word from California's swimwear designers for 1969 is "head for cover!"

Some suits in the spring swimsuit show of the California fashion creators still show the maximum of skin, but the new trend is away from the bikini and back to the swimdress.

Wraps are going on those bikinis, literally from head to foot. The beach pajama is "in."

"Obvious sexline is out," said one swimsuit maker Tuesday. "but there's a game of intrigue going on."

If the look in recent years was tough, the new look turns around and becomes decidedly feminine.

Cole of California calls its collection "Love," with several styles resembling frilly lingerie. One style is simply called a "Swim Slip," and in soft blue jersey it looks like just that.

Dewese Designs includes a black lace bikini in their lingerie look and borrows from the bedroom a "Karate Coat" for coverup.

Another designer, Alexa, brings the Japanese "Happi Coat" to the beach.

Everyone shows a version of what Catalina dubs the "Trikin," a blushing interpretation of the bikini with a short skirt wrapped around the brief bottom.

The shocker of this year's collection is the covered look. As one observer put it: "It's nice not to see so many navels for a change."

Battery Power Propels Auto Nearly 140 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — A battery-powered vehicle whizzed across the salt flats at an average speed of 138.862 miles an hour Tuesday.

"I expect we're starting a whole new game," said a spokesman for Ford Motor Co., which promoted the speed run by driver Jerry Kugel.

The car, named the Autolite Lead Wedge, has 20 regular production lead acid batteries, 10 on each side. They are wired in series to power a rear-mounted motor similar to those used in fork-lift trucks.

The car went 139.9 miles an hour one way and 137.8 miles an hour on the return trip, being clocked for one mile each way.

Smith-Wickline Circle Plans For Christmas

Smith-Wickline Circle of Community United Methodist Church met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. O. J. Towers. Mrs. Arnold Moats and Mrs. Reynold Howsman were assisting hostesses.

Mr. George Wickline conducted the meeting. Plans were made for the circle's participation in the annual Christmas dinner meeting of The Women's Society of Christian Service on Dec. 4 at 6:30 p.m. The members will stress Germany and its Christmas customs, carrying out the overall theme "Christmas Around the World." The Christmas offering will be presented to the work of South Side Settlement in Columbus.

Members were urged to participate in the "Hanging of the Greens" on Dec. 8, when all groups of the church will cooperate in decorating the church building for the holiday season.

Devotions were directed by Mrs. Reynold Howsman. Mrs. Jerry Wolford, vice-president of the Women's Society, was a guest at the meeting and explained program plans for the coming year.

All women of the church were urged to sign the charter book in order to be charter members of the new society.

Mrs. R. R. Bales won the prize in a contest conducted by Mrs. Roloff Wolford.

DISCIPLINARY FIREWORKS—Rep. Richard Bolling (left), D-Mo., is going to try to get the House to discipline Rep. E. Mendel Rivers (right), D-S.C., a 15th term and powerful chairman of the Armed Services Committee, for his friendly campaign pronouncements about George Wallace and his lack of party support on key issues. Bolling is a member of a group of House liberals called the Democratic Study Group. The faction also is looking into second-term John R. Rarick (inset), D-La., for his open support of Wallace. He could lose what seniority he has. Two Democratic congressmen were disciplined and punished four years ago for supporting Goldwater.

Kent State Protesters Stay Away

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of the Black United Students (BUS) movement vowed Tuesday to continue the walkout by some 300 Kent State University students "indefinitely" unless the school's administration agreed to demands for an amnesty.

The students left the campus Monday night after the administration refused to grant demands for an amnesty for students who took part in sit-in demonstrations at KSU last week.

BUS spokesmen also said sympathy demonstrations of some sort were expected today at Central State University, Wooster College and other schools.

Some 60 BUS members walked off campus at the University of Akron Tuesday in token support of the protesting KSU students.

The Akron students said they would return to classes today and described their walkout as "symbolic of freedom of speech."

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, took part in a six-hour sit-in Nov. 13 at Kent State's job placement office to protest the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They accused the Oakland police of "militarized racism."

A largely white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society, also participated in the protest, but did not take part in the campus walkout.

KSU President Robert I. White refused to yield to student demands that investigations into the sit-in be dropped and an amnesty granted to protesters.

Scout Troop 52 Has Honor Court

Boy Scout Troop 52, of the Methodist Church, held a Court of Honor Monday night in the church basement.

Scoutmaster George Myers awarded the following advances in rank: Steve Throckmorton, Life; Tom Frericks, Gary Munson, Mark Munson, Star; R. N. Phillips, Phillip Roll, First Class; Danny Eliot, Tenderfoot.

Merit badges were awarded to Phillip Roll, Kevin Carter, Steve Throckmorton, Dave Mark, and Gary Munson, Dave and Jim Shank, Brian Weaver, Jeff Harr, Dick Liston, Greg Roll, Sid Johnson, R. N. Phillips, and Dale Hukill.

New junior leaders were Dave Munson, Jim Shank, and Greg Roll. New Senior Patrol badges, patrol bars, and year pins were also awarded.

The troop will hold a Eagle Court of Honor sometime in December with three boys expected to receive the highest award in scouting.

Hotel Is Sued In Man's Death Due To Fumes

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland woman whose husband was killed by heater fumes on their wedding night filed suit Tuesday for $300,000 against the former Yankee Clipper Motor Inn and five other defendants.

Joan Plagman and her husband, Bruce, 22, were honeymooning at the hotel in nearby Boston Heights when fumes from a faulty swimming pool heater leaked into motel rooms.

Plagman and two other persons were killed and 66 persons overcome by fumes.

Named as co-defendants in the suit filed in Summit County Common Pleas Court were the East Ohio Gas Co. and four construction and plumbing companies in the Akron-Youngstown area.

Redevelopment Of Watts Set By LA Agency

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Community Redevelopment Agency and the City Council have approved a $100-million project to tear down much of Watts and rebuild the area still badly marred by the 1965 riots.

An unprecedented joint hearing Monday night cut at least six months off the time required to put the urban renewal program into effect, spokesmen said. It means the rebuilding program could be completed in five years after remaining federal approvals are obtained.

The Watts riots left 34 persons dead and property damage estimated at $40 million.

Since then, dozens of investigations into its causes have concluded that little if anything has been done to alter conditions blamed for the riot. "Today, the same conditions exist..." declared a report this year of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

A 107-acre slum in Watts, much of the predominantly Negro area of south-central Los Angeles, will be cleared and new houses, apartment buildings and shopping centers built.

Present property owners and tenants will have priority in the multimillion-dollar neighborhood, say city officials. After 550 families are moved to temporary lodging to make way for construction, they will be offered apartments or home loans to move back when it's finished.

4 More Ohioans Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Ohioans are named in the Defense Department's latest Vietnam casualty list.

Army Spec. 4 David E. Hofert, husband of Donna L. Hofert of Uniontown; and Marine Corps Lance Cpl. Ronald A. Yancher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yancher of Cleveland, were killed in action.

Army Spec. 4 David H. Merrian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest H. Merrian of Mentor, died of wounds.

Seaman Michael D. Jarrett, son of Chepas Jarrett of Warren, died not as a result of hostile action.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A favorite television device is the two-parter, particularly among 60-minute shows. This is the story that starts one week and ends with a cliff-hanger. A week later, it resumes and concludes.

In theory, this is dandy. The viewer is presumed to become so interested that he will make a special point of returning for the windup hour. And coincidentally, the two-parter can also be spliced together, some of the fat trimmed away, and the result is a full-length film which, in foreign theaters, may pick up a little extra money.

Occasionally in television this process is reversed—a theatrical film is chopped in half to make two TV shows.

Sometimes, however, things don't work out so well. On Monday night, for instance, NBC started to show "El Cid," a 1961 super-spectacle set in the 11th century and full of big battles with Charlton Heston being terribly brave.

Like so many of these huge-canvas movies in the De Mille style, the story moved along slowly and the figures were reduced to ant size on the small TV screens. Thus when the second two hours of "El Cid" followed Tuesday night, a lot of viewers who might have been tempted to sample the NBC movie, gave a yawn and looked elsewhere.

A little earlier, ABC was broadcasting the second part of a story on "It Takes a Thief" which started the week before. Perhaps most of the audience which had seen the first part were on the edge of their chairs, but the viewer who had missed the first show spent just about the first half hour trying to figure out what was going on. Why was Robert Wagner in jail? And why was the secret safe under Lenin's bust. As a matter of fact, this viewer never did catch up.

CBS devoted a half hour to some interesting film shot recently in Cuba in a short documentary evaluating change in that island's economy and life in 10 years of Castro rule.

While the film, often showing happy smiling workers, sometimes looked like propaganda stuff, the commentary by the network's Bert Quint seemed a calm and balanced evaluation of the good and the bad, the successes and the failures.

Al Morgan, producer of NBC's "Today Show" since 1962 when Hugh Downs took over from John Chancellor, has been replaced by Stuart Schulberg, writer and producer of TV actuality programs.

Morgan, author of a number of books including "The Great Man," a best-seller of several years ago, has been named head of a new NBC unit to develop science and adventure specials for early evening family viewing.

Chicago Officials Sued By Student

CHICAGO (AP) — A seminary student has sued the city of Chicago and several of its top officials for $1.25 million in damages, charging he was beaten by police during Democratic National Convention week disorders.

The suit was filed Monday by the American Civil Liberties Union in behalf of Roy L. Ries Jr., of Levittown, Pa., a student at McCormick Theological Seminary.

Ries suffered a fractured skull when, he said, unidentified police officers struck him twice on the head with a gun butt in Lincoln Park the night of Aug. 26.

Airport Transit Link Near Opening

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Transit System officials say the city's new airport rapid transit service may be in operation by Thursday—six days after its makeshift inaugural run.

But transit spokesmen said it would be noon today before they learned if repairs begun Tuesday on damaged cables would permit the start of regular service.

Kent State Protesters Stay Away

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of the Black United Students (BUS) movement vowed Tuesday to continue the walkout by some 300 Kent State University students "indefinitely" unless the school's administration agreed to demands for an amnesty.

The students left the campus Monday night after the administration refused to grant demands for an amnesty for students who took part in sit-in demonstrations at KSU last week.

BUS spokesmen also said sympathy demonstrations of some sort were expected today at Central State University, Wooster College and other schools.

Some 60 BUS members walked off campus at the University of Akron Tuesday in token support of the protesting KSU students.

The Akron students said they would return to classes today and described their walk out as "symbolic of freedom of speech."

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, took part in a six-hour sit-in Nov. 13 at Kent State's job placement office to protest the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They accused the Oakland police of "militarized racism."

A largely white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society, also participated in the protest, but did not take part in the campus walkout.

KSU President Robert I. White refused to yield to student demands that investigations into the sit-in be dropped and an amnesty granted to protesters.

Scout Troop 52 Has Honor Court

Boy Scout Troop 52, of the Methodist Church, held a Court of Honor Monday night in the church basement.

New junior leaders were Dave Munson, Jim Shank, and Greg Roll. New Senior Patrol badges, patrol bars, and year pins were also awarded.

The troop will hold a Eagle Court of Honor sometime in December with three boys expected to receive the highest award in scouting.

Art Therapy Apparent Success

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Art, in scrawny pictures and bold, wild colors, is now being used to help doctors probe the minds of the sick.

At Philadelphia's famed Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital the illness of some mental patients can be partly diagnosed by the drawings they make.

This is a pioneering field: art therapy. And it appears to be fast becoming a more exciting step toward a cure of mental illness than the traditional occupational therapy. Many hospitals are now following Hahnemann's lead, and switching.

"In art therapy, no one can be a failure," says Myra Levick, mother of three, who is director of Hahnemann's art therapy training program.

"It's an excellent key to opening up a person's mind. Especially, in cases where the patient is nonverbal and just is not communicating at all."

While the majority of art therapy is with paint, water or oil, some patients — in the hospital's encouragement of free expression — use pencil, or other art crafts such as tiles.

Mrs. Levick, who has a bachelor's degree in fine arts and a masters' in educational psychology, says art offers patients creative activity that substitutes for their neurotic symptoms.

Patients ventilate their feelings on the paper or canvas, and the drawing seems to help relax tensions — acting almost like a combination tranquilizer and mirror.

"A patient's art work can demonstrate improvement, regression or a cycle of both," says Mrs. Levick. "This depends on the nature of the illness, and the length of time in treatment."

Psychiatrists don't judge the art esthetically, she asserts, "but rather look at the way the patient organizes his work and uses space and color in relation to reality."

To illustrate: One patient on admission to the hospital sat down and drew a vase with flowers. It was rigidly composed, the flowers massed together and the picture covering only a small part of the page. Psychiatrists said it displayed anxiety, defensiveness and a poor self-image. Three weeks later the same patient drew a much larger flowerpot, free flowing and colorful, showing he had loosened up quite a bit.

Mrs. Levick gives these other hints on what drawings mean:

—Boundary lines that continue off the page usually indicate the patient has little idea where he, as an individual, ends, and the world begins.

—Tiny figures, drawn into a small part of the space, shows the patient has a poor self-image, a low opinion of himself.

—Confused forms show a confused identity.

—Large, staring eyes in a distorted face are the sign of the paranoid.

—A crowded picture with objects overshadowing each other GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Fire in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Katzenbarger Tuesday took the life of Katzenbarger's sister, Donna, 40. Miss Katzenbarger resided with the couple.

Mrs. Levick says Hahnemann is the only hospital in the United States now offering a graduate program in art therapy — and six students were graduated last June. There are nine in the present class.

Similar community mental health centers, like Hahnemann organized last year, now are being planned in Massachusetts, Kansas and Texas.

Plans Readied To Commemorate Battle Of Tarawa

LONDON (AP) — The 25th anniversary of the U.S. Marines' victory in the Battle of Tarawa, one of the bloodiest operations of the Pacific War, will be commemorated Saturday on tiny Betio Island.

It took the 2nd Marine Division 3½ days to recapture the island, which was heavily fortified and defended by Japanese marines. A thousand Americans were killed and more than 2,000 wounded. The Japanese lost 4,690 men.

To mark the 25th anniversary, the government of the Gilbert and Ellice Islands Colony is arranging a number of local events, the Crown Agents for Overseas Governments and Administrations announced in London.

A commemorative plaque will be placed at Betio harbor. An official U.S. military detachment will be among the visitors. Commemorative postage stamps are being issued.

There are plenty of relics to remind the visitor to Betio of the carnage a quarter of a century ago. But veterans of the battle will find the island once again covered with coconut palms and pandanus pines. New buildings line the small harbor and the place is swarming with people.

Betio, which is only 2 miles long by half a mile at the widest point, is one of the islands which make up Tarawa atoll.

The Japanese moved in soon after Pearl Harbor, but for a time they did little to fortify the Gilbert and Ellice Group, except to build a seaplane base on an island of Makin atoll. From this base their planes were able to attack shipping between the United States and Australia.

In August 1942, to divert Japanese forces from Guadalcanal, the Americans launched a raid, led by Lt. Col. E. P. Carlson, on the seaplane base.

It was successful, but its immediate effect was to cause the Japanese to rethink their defenses in the Group. They concentrated on Tarawa and turned Betio into a fortress, covered with a maze of bunkers, pillboxes and interconnecting trenches. Heavy coastal guns, sold to Japan by Britain during the Russo-Japanese war, were installed at either end.

In 1943 the Japanese were forced to the defensive. They were under heavy pressure in New Guinea and the Solomons. The Japanese fleet was badly mauled at Rabaul on Nov. 5.

The American forces mounted Operation Galvanic against the Gilbert group. Its three objectives were to capture Makin atoll with its seaplane base, Tarawa atoll and Abemama, an atoll some 75 miles southeast of Tarawa.

The 2nd Marine Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Julian Smith, was assigned to the attack on Tarawa.

In the early hours of Nov. 20 the guns of three battleships, five cruisers and nine destroyers opened up with a preliminary bombardment of Betio.

Under cover of this barrage the assault troops moved in.

The tide was very low and the only assault craft which could cross the reef about 1,000 yards from shore were amphibious tractors, of which there was a limited number.

Col. David Shoup led the first troops which hit the shore just after 9 a.m. and despite heavy losses managed to establish a toehold. The slaughter began when the landing craft with the following waves grounded on the reef and the Leathernecks were forced to wade waist deep for hundreds of yards to the beach through crossfire.

By the end of the first day a beachhead some 300 yards deep had been established. The following day the issue remained in doubt until about noon, with reinforcements coming under very heavy fire.

Gradually the tide of battle turned and the Americans advanced from pillbox to pillbox.

More reinforcements were landed on the island Nov. 22. A Japanese counterattack that night was beaten off.

The next morning the mop-up operation continued and at 1:12 p.m. on Nov. 23 Betio was declared secured. In a short ceremony the American and British flags were hoisted on adjacent palm trees.

In the days of the Caesars, the Romans used lead to make pipes for their huge water supply systems.

DOT To Release Highway Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation said today it will release Dec. 1 $600 million in federal-aid highway funds frozen since Sept. 6 as a move against inflation.

A department spokesman said the funds will be made available at a faster rate through next June so there will be no reduction in the $4.7 billion originally authorized for current fiscal year.

States now ahead of schedule in highway building will be permitted to obligate funds for the next fiscal year during the period, the spokesman said.

Land Retirement Studied To Boost Farmers' Income

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Land retirement as a means of increasing farm income is one of the chief topics expected to come before the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 50th annual meeting, which convened here today.

D. R. Stanfield, the federation's executive vice president, said Tuesday that farmers will have to decide whether they want to accept such a proposal or face the "very real possibility" of continuing with income below the nonfarming population.

Stanfield predicted at a news conference that land retirement would figure strongly in the Nixon administration's farm program. He said he felt that President-elect Richard M. Nixon had indicated in campaign speeches that this would be the direction his administration would take.

In order for such a plan to be effective, Stanfield said, a price support level would have to be fixed on a supply-demand basis in domestic and world markets. Without a land retirement plan, he explained, improved technology will create an excessive agricultural acreage in this country ranging from 50 million to 75 million acres until 1980.

Stanfield's assistant, C. William Swank, suggested that participating farmers might be able to add to their income by converting their idle acres into recreational centers, including hunting activities.

Swank will succeed Stanfield, who is retiring Dec. 1 after 13 years as executive vice president of the state federation, which has 52,195 members.

Touching on labor organizational problems, Stanfield said the Farm Bureau would oppose inclusion of farm labor under the National Labor Relations Act until the farmer is given more protection.

He said delegates at the federation meeting will consider calling upon the Department of Labor to fix minimum piece rates for migrant workers instead of hourly minimum rates.

Most of Ohio's migrant labor force is found in the northwest part of the state, where workers harvest the tomato crop.

Hamilton County Water Rate Hike Being Studied

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati and Hamilton County residents may soon have their water rates jacked up — for the first time since 1955.

City Manager Richard Krabach recommended to City Council Tuesday that charges be increased 35 per cent for city customers and 30 per cent for county users to bring in an additional $2.25 million yearly.

The basic city rate would be hiked from 15 cents to 20 cents for each 100 cubic feet and the flat county charge could be increased from 30 to 35 cents.

Krabach said the increases are necessary mainly for capital improvements. The principal project in the City Water Works capital improvements is a $12 million auxiliary water plant to be constructed on the Great Miami River near Ross in Butler County.

Argentina Wants More Population

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — President Juan C. Onganía, is trying to counter pressure for birth control by offering to increase allowances for families with many children.

Economy Minister Adalberto Krieger Vasena says family allowances will be increased by the end of the year for families with more than three children.

The allowance now is 2,100 pesos or $7 monthly per child. It is paid by the parent's employer until the child is 18 years old.

President Onganía, siding with the conservative bishops who control the Catholic Church in Argentina, has asserted obedience to the Pope's ruling on artificial birth control. The Athenaeum of the Republic, a Church-oriented cultural club to which many top government officials belong, said in a statement that birth control violates the Pope's directives and church doctrine.

Many Argentines claim more births are necessary to populate and develop their country, where 24 million people live in an area half the size of the United States.

Some economists say that Argentina's birth rate of 1.6 per cent is too low for such a vast country with rich, untapped resources. This situation contrasts with that of smaller, poorer Latin American nations with birth rates which exceed the rate of economic growth.

LBJ Credibility Draws Attack

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Johnson administration was characterized by a "reckless handling of the truth," according to a report by Sigma Delta Chi's freedom of information committee.

Johnson "is leaving office with perhaps the worst record for credibility of any president in our history," said the report, which was to be presented today at the journalism society's national convention.

During the last year, it said, "the President continued to have an obsession for secrecy and did his utmost to maintain a monopolistic control of the news until he was ready to announce it."

"President Johnson's penchant for secrecy," the report said, "his refusal to hold formal, announced - in - advance news conferences, and his reckless handling of the truth, continued to give serious problems to White House correspondents."

The report was critical of news handling procedures at the Pentagon where, it said, "the information programs are not designed to provide information but to protect the secretary of defense and the various services against criticism."

Information relating to the Vietnam war was the biggest problem, the report said, because "critical decisions on the war were made in secrecy and never fully discussed."

Also under attack in the document was the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which, the committee said, "repeatedly withheld information concerning conditions in nonfederally inspected meat packing and poultry plants."

However, the committee said that both the House and the Senate moved in separate actions to improve their ethical standards and lift "part of the veil of secrecy surrounding their personal finances."

The document was critical of the American Bar Association's

Wooster Man Named As Ohio 'Top Tourist'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — E. B. Heckendorn of Wooster Tuesday was named Ohio's "top tourist."

In a contest dreamed up by Gov. James A. Rhodes, Heckendorn came closest to selecting Ohio's eight most outstanding tourist attractions as prepared by three judges.

Ohio's "eight wonders" were officially listed by the judges as Blue Hole at Castalia, Flint Ridge near Newark, Deep Cut Canal at Spencerville, Glacial Grooves on Kelley's Island, Perry's Victory Monument at Put-in-Bay, Rock House at Hocking State Forest, Serpent Mound in Adams County and the state capitol in Columbus.

For coming closest to the judge's selections, Heckendorn will receive a gold trophy, and gifts from managers of festivals and owners of tourist attractions. Several runners-up will receive certificates of merits from Rhodes.

Charge Toledo Man In Murder Probe

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Lopez, 18, Toledo, sought in the fatal shooting Friday of Richard Ramirez, 25, also of Toledo, was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday.

Ramirez was slain outside an east Toledo cafe following an argument. Police think Lopez may have headed for Texas, where he is believed to have relatives.

9 Wreaths Mark RFK Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of the president's assassination.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

The flowers on one wreath spelled out:

"We dream, Bobby, and ask why not." The words echoed Kennedy's remark, "Some people see things as they are and say, 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say, 'Why not?'"

Kennedy's widow, Ethel, who is expecting her 11th child, was under doctor's orders to rest at her McLean, Va., home. She wasn't expected to visit his grave.

"MISS WORLD"—It's breakfast in bed in London for Australia's "Miss World," Penelope Plummer, 18. She is from Smithtown, New South Wales.

Insurance Suit Settled

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Ben C. Green Tuesday awarded a Westlake company $277,000 in settlement of a claim against 11 insurance firms.

The claim, which took seven years to settle, originated in 1961 when the Lakewood Manufacturing Co.'s office and tool room was destroyed by fire and production was reduced for six months.

When the company tried to collect on a business interruption policy farmed out to 11 different insurance companies they were offered $18,000 in settlement of their claim.

Company president Stephen C. Pepling, 71, said Tuesday the matter has taken so long to settle he had written a musical play about the problems of insurance claims.

"I might just use the settlement money to get my play produced on Broadway," Pepling added.

City Manager Richard Krabach recommended to City Council Tuesday that charges be increased 35 per cent for city customers and 30 per cent for county users to bring in an additional $2.25 million yearly.

The basic city rate would be hiked from 15 cents to 20 cents for each 100 cubic feet and the flat county charge could be increased from 30 to 35 cents.

Krabach said the increases are necessary mainly for capital improvements. The principal project in the City Water Works capital improvements is a $12 million auxiliary water plant to be constructed on the Great Miami River near Ross in Butler County.

Argentina Wants More Population

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — President Juan C. Ongania, is trying to counter pressure for birth control by offering to increase allowances for families with many children.

Economy Minister Adalberto Krieger Vasena says family allowances will be increased by the end of the year for families with more than three children.

The allowance now is 2,100 pesos or $7 monthly per child. It is paid by the parent's employer until the child is 18 years old.

President Ongania, siding with the conservative bishops who control the Catholic Church in Argentina, has asserted obedience to the Pope's ruling on artificial birth control. The Athenaeum of the Republic, a Church-oriented cultural club to which many top government officials belong, said in a statement that birth control violates the Pope's directives and church doctrine.

Many Argentines claim more births are necessary to populate and develop their country, where 24 million people live in an area half the size of the United States.

Some economists say that Argentina's birth rate of 1.6 per cent is too low for such a vast country with rich, untapped resources. This situation contrasts with that of smaller, poorer Latin American nations with birth rates which exceed the rate of economic growth.

LBJ Credibility Draws Attack

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Johnson administration was characterized by a "reckless handling of the truth," according to a report by Sigma Delta Chi's freedom of information committee.

Johnson "is leaving office with perhaps the worst record for credibility of any president in our history," said the report, which was to be presented today at the journalism society's national convention.

During the last year, it said, "the President continued to have an obsession for secrecy and did his utmost to maintain a monopolistic control of the news until he was ready to announce it."

"President Johnson's penchant for secrecy," the report said, "his refusal to hold formal, announced - in - advance news conferences, and his reckless handling of the truth, continued to give serious problems to White House correspondents."

The report was critical of news handling procedures at the Pentagon where, it said, "the information programs are not designed to provide information but to protect the secretary of defense and the various services against criticism."

Information relating to the Vietnam war was the biggest problem, the report said, because "critical decisions on the war were made in secrecy and never fully discussed."

Also under attack in the document was the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which, the committee said, "repeatedly withheld information concerning conditions in nonfederally inspected meat packing and poultry plants."

However, the committee said that both the House and the Senate moved in separate actions to improve their ethical standards and lift "part of the veil of secrecy surrounding their personal finances."

The document was critical of the American Bar Association's

Charge Toledo Man In Murder Probe

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Lopez, 18, Toledo, sought in the fatal shooting Friday of Richard Ramirez, 23, also of Toledo, was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday.

Ramirez was slain outside an east Toledo cafe following an argument. Police think Lopez may have headed for Texas, where he is believed to have relatives.

Wooster Man Named As Ohio 'Top Tourist'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — E. B. Heckendorn of Wooster Tuesday was named Ohio's "top tourist."

In a contest dreamed up by Gov. James A. Rhodes, Heckendorn came closest to selecting Ohio's eight most outstanding tourist attractions as prepared by three judges.

Ohio's "eight wonders" were officially listed by the judges as Blue Hole at Castalia, Flint Ridge near Newark, Deep Cut Canal at Spencerville, Glacial Grooves on Kelley's Island, Perry's Victory Monument at Put-in-Bay, Rock House at Hocking State Forest, Serpent Mound in Adams County and the state capitol in Columbus.

For coming closest to the judge's selections, Heckendorn will receive a gold trophy, and gifts from managers of festivals and owners of tourist attractions. Several runners-up will receive certificates of merit from Rhodes.

9 Wreaths Mark RFK Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of his birth.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

Nine wreaths were placed Tuesday at the small white cross that marks Robert Kennedy's grave until a permanent memorial being planned by the family can be installed.

The flowers on one wreath spelled out:

"We dream, Bobby, and ask why not." The words echoed Kennedy's remark, "Some people see things as they are and say, 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say, 'Why not?'"

Kennedy's widow, Ethel, who is expecting her 11th child, was under doctor's orders to rest at her McLean, Va., home. She wasn't expected to visit his grave.

"MISS WORLD"—It's breakfast in bed in London for Australia's "Miss World," Penelope Plummer, 18. She is from Smithtown, New South Wales.

Insurance Suit Settled

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Ben C. Green Tuesday awarded a Westlake company $277,000 in settlement of a claim against 11 insurance firms.

The claim, which took seven years to settle, originated in 1961 when the Lakewood Manufacturing Co.'s office and tool room was destroyed by fire and production was reduced for six months.

When the company tried to collect on a business interruption policy farmed out to 11 different insurance companies they were offered $18,000 in settlement of their claim.

Company president Stephen C. Pepling, 71, said Tuesday the matter has taken so long to settle he had written a musical play about the problems of insurance claims.

"I might just use the settlement money to get my play produced on Broadway," Pepling added.

Robinson Named Offensive Player Of Week By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Paul Robinsons have visitors, 2-year-old Tina makes sure everyone knows who her daddy is.

"Here's daddy," she tells the visitors, pointing to a picture in the Cincinnati Bengals' football program.

Robinson, however, has been doing a pretty good job himself of letting everyone know who he is.

He's a rookie running back who is the American Football League's leading rusher and who was named the AFL's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press today.

Robinson received the honor after gaining more than 100 yards for the fourth consecutive contest, rushing for 134 yards and three touchdowns in the Bengals' 38-21 victory over Miami.

In the previous three weeks, he ran for 115 yards against Kansas City, 136 against Houston and 159 against Oakland, giving him a four-game record of 564 yards and a 6.7-yard average. He's also scored six touchdowns in that time.

And that four-game explosion has vaulted him to the top of the league in rushing with 839 yards and has placed him in good position to become only the second rookie ever to win the AFL rushing crown.

Abner Haynes won the title in 1960 with 875 yards, a mark Robinson can surpass Sunday.

Other offensive stars from Sunday's games include receiver Don Maynard of New York, who caught 10 passes for 228 yards, and four quarterbacks:

Len Dawson of Kansas City, 17 of 31 for 333 yards and three touchdowns; Pete Beathard of Houston, 17 of 29 for 234 and two; Joe Namath of New York, 19 of 37 for 387 and one, and Darby Lamonia of Oakland, 21 of 34 for 311 and four.

College Football Attendance Rises

NEW YORK (AP) — College football is slightly ahead of the 1967 pace in attendance.

The latest figures compiled by the National Collegiate Sports Services shows that 5,648,621 have watched the 90 top-attended games so far this year. This is 21,055 above last year, with two more weeks to go.

Fearless Grid Forecaster Picks OSU Over Michigan

NEW YORK (AP) — They're playing The Game Saturday at Cambridge, Mass. ... while The Big Game goes on at Berkeley, Calif.

But The Really Big Game, circa 1968, is set to unfold at Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State and Michigan collide for the Championship of the Midwestern World.

Yale and Harvard match perfect records for the first time since 1909 in the 85th renewal of The Game, with the Ivy League crown at stake. California and Stanford, a pair of resurgent West Coast traditionalists, meet for the 71st time in The Big Game.

Unbeaten Ohio State and once-scathed Michigan, the nation's second and fourth ranked powers, tangle for the 65th time. The survivor earns a Rose Bowl confrontation with mighty Southern California.

The Trojans won't be paying much attention to the Big Ten showdown, however. They'll be too busy mixing it up with arch-rival UCLA.

Throw out the past performance charts for those match-ups and take a stab with us, if you will, on the following picks. (The accuracy mark to date is .725 after a 42-14 windup last week):

Harvard over Yale.
California over Stanford.
Ohio State over Michigan.
Southern California over UCLA.

Purdue over Indiana.
Kansas over Missouri.
Clemson over South Carolina.

The other picks:
EAST — Penn State over Pittsburgh; Princeton over Cornell; Penn over Dartmouth; Columbia over Brown.

SOUTH — Tennessee over Kentucky; Florida State over Wake Forest; Duke over North Carolina; Virginia over Maryland; Louisiana State over Tulane; Vanderbilt over Davidson; Syracuse over West Virginia.

MIDWEST — Oklahoma over Nebraska; Oklahoma State over Kansas State; Michigan State over Northwestern; Iowa over Illinois; Minnesota over Wisconsin.

SOUTHWEST — Houston over Tulsa; Texas Tech over Arkansas; Southern Methodist over Baylor; Texas Christian over Rice.

FAR WEST — Colorado over Air Force; Arizona over Wyoming; Oregon State over Oregon; Washington over Washington State.

OSU Eyes Tactics For Big Game

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A couple of behind-the-scenes strategists could be Ohio State's strongest asset Saturday when the Buckeyes battle Michigan for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Defensive coordinator Lou McCullough and assistant coach and head scout Esco Sarkkinen will be working overtime this week devising a defensive trap to stymie Michigan's high-powered attack.

Their main chore will be to stop tailback Ron Johnson and quarterback Dennis Brown, the Wolverines' classy 1-2 punch.

Sarkkinen, often described as a super spy as a scout, and McCullough, have teamed up twice this season to put the skids to a pair of conference standouts—Purdue's Leroy Keyes and Ed Podolak of Iowa.

And head Coach Woody Hayes has earned a reputation down through the years of keying on an opponent's super star.

Former greats Alan Ameche of Wisconsin and Jim Grabowski of Illinois had their troubles piercing the Ohio State line.

In Ohio's 13-0 upset of Purdue earlier this season, the fabled Keyes was limited to 19 yards in seven rushes and caught only four passes for 44 yards.

Last week, the Buckeyes checked Podolak with only 45 yards in 15 chances after the Iowa flash ripped Northwestern's defense for 286 yards, a short-lived Big Ten rushing record.

Now comes Johnson, a bonafide All-American candidate, who set a national record with 347 yards against Wisconsin. He also scored five touchdowns and 36 points, equalling conference marks set back in 1924 by immortal Red Grange.

"Johnson can be stopped," Sarkkinen predicted, "but you need to have everything going for you."

"Basic fundamentals are a key and so is technique and execution by each defensive player. And against a player like Johnson, a real workhorse and breakaway threat, you need ultra fine tackling."

Sark doesn't figure a set defense to stop Johnson is the answer. "You've got to make adjustments and you've got to be equipped to handle Brown. They have so many ways to beat you."

But he stressed basic fundamentals again "because gimmicks and gadgets don't win ball games."

While no Ohio State coach is willing to admit it, the Bucks obviously will get a psychological lift from Johnson's brilliant performance against the Badgers.

"Ohio plays better when it's charged up, trying to stop one or two individual stars," said one unidentified coach. "There's certainly enough incentive to check that pair."

Morris Holds Big-College Rushing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Eugene "Mercury" Morris of West Texas State is the new holder of the major college season rushing record, but he might not hold it for long.

O. J. Simpson, Southern California's great runner, has two games left, and all he has to do in those two games is gain 123 yards for the record to be his, according to statistics released today.

Morris ran for 112 yards last Saturday, raising his season total to 1,571 yards, one more than the old record held by Fred Wenz of Texas-El Paso.

However, Simpson rambled for 238 yards, pushing his total to 1,449.

After Ron Johnson of Michigan gained a record 347 yards Saturday, it's possible that he, too, could eclipse the season mark, but his total of 1,300 means he would need almost as good a day against Ohio State as he had against Wisconsin.

Greg Cook of Cincinnati and Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist are the top two players in the other two categories—passing and total offense.

Hixson leads Cook in passing, 239 completions to 138, but Cook is ahead in total offense, 2,831 yards to 2,664. Each has one game remaining.

Another Cincinnati star, Jim O'Brien is the leading scorer with 131 points.

Cincy Reds Set April 7 Opener

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds announced today they will kick off the 1969 season—their 100th—by playing Los Angeles April 7 in a traditional home opener.

The Reds, a member of the National League's West Division, have scheduled five doubleheaders—two more than in 1968—and 59 night games and 22 day contests.

The Reds will play West Division teams nine times here and East Division clubs six times. Defending league champion St. Louis will pay its first visit here in a three-game series June 10-12.

Super Cup Game

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The Santos soccer team defeated Racing of Buenos Aires 2-0 Tuesday in a Super Cup Tournament game.

THIS ONE'S FOR THE ROSES—The big game of the year, Ohio State versus Michigan, will pack 85,000 into Ohio's stadium in Columbus Saturday, Nov. 23, with the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid going to the winner. The Bucks are undefeated and Michigan lost only its opener to California. Michigan's Ron Johnson comes off a five-touchdown spree against Wisconsin. End Jim Mandich and defensive back Tom Curtis are other Wolverine stars. The Bucks' big guns are quarterback Rex Kern, fullback Jim Otis and lineman Rufus Mayes. It's the 65th game in the series, with Michigan leading 37-23-4.

The Vikings lowered the boom 18 times in the last three games and have smeared the quarterback 38 times for 258 yards in 10 games this season.

The latest National Football League statistics show the Vikings second in total defense, eighth in rushing defense and second in pass defense.

The team statistics show Dallas out in front in total offense and pass offense with Chicago still showing the way in rushing offense.

Los Angeles leads in total defense, Dallas in rushing defense and Green Bay in pass defense.

Dallas leads in scoring with 312 points and 39 touchdowns. Baltimore has allowed the fewest points, 108 and touchdowns, 13.

$239.95

Give it the Face Test and the price will look even better!

Take a close look at the faces on a color TV before you buy it. If you see good, life-like flesh tones, you know that set can get any colors right. Give this Philco Color TV The Face Test and we think you'll agree that you can't beat the picture or the value!

- Transistorized Solid State Signal System—no tubes to burn out in the signal-receiving circuits
- 26,000 volts of picture power for brighter, sharper picture
- Philco Memory-Matic VHF Preset Fine Tuning

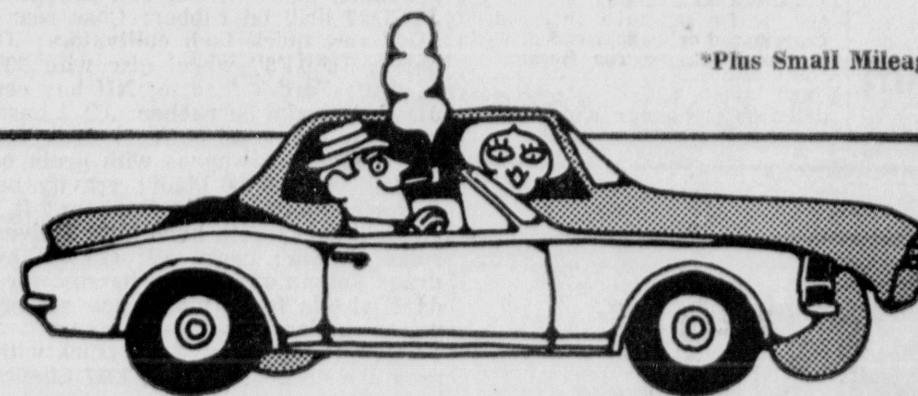

PHILCO GETS THE FACES RIGHT. THE REST IS EASY.

Testing Discrepancies In Dancer's Image Probe Aired

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A small bottle labeled 3956U may help answer one of racing's greatest mysteries: what really happened on Derby Day?

From that bottle State Racing chemist Kenneth W. Smith says he extracted a urine specimen which, under testing, showed traces of Phenylbutazolidin.

Because the medication is banned at Kentucky race tracks, Dancer's Image was deprived of the first prize of $122,600 and his owner, Peter Fuller, is now trying to reverse that decision by Churchill Downs stewards.

Smith, who has been conducting tests for the state since 1940, told the Kentucky Racing Commission Tuesday that he deviated somewhat from his normal procedures in checking out this sample.

He also testified that he had been mistaken about some of the chemicals used in the test and went on to explain that in acidifying the urine he had used sulfuric acid instead of hydrochloric acid.

Smith said he did not reach that conclusion until several weeks ago while trying to reconstruct the events that occurred in his mobile laboratory at Churchill Downs on the evening of May 4.

Smith contended, however, that the use of sulfuric acid instead of hydrochloric acid would not have changed the outcome of the test on Dancer's Image. Smith underwent vigorous cross-examination by Arthur Grafton, one of the attorneys for Fuller. Grafton charged that the procedures used by Smith's laboratory were quite different than those followed by other racing chemists.

THEY'RE SHOWING 'EM—The Missouri Tigers, heading for a Big Eight Conference bid, lost their opening game to Kentucky and then started rolling and have been rolling ever since with Oklahoma on November 16 and Kansas on November 23 the big ones. Heading the cast is tailback Greg Cook, the leading rusher; halfback John Staggers, top receiver; quarterback Terry McMillan and the star defensive back, Roger Wehrli.

Hargan To Face Surgery On Arm

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pitcher Steve Hargan will undergo surgery on his throwing arm Thursday, but should be back in uniform in time for spring training in February, the Cleveland Indians said Tuesday.

Indians officials said Hargan, a right-hander from Palm Springs, Calif., will undergo surgery at Shaker Medical Center in Cleveland to have scar tissue removed from a nerve in his arm. Doctors also plan to place the nerve deeper in his arm.

Johnson, Nelsen Chosen As Top Browns Players

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Defensive tackle Walter Johnson and quarterback Bill Nelsen have been picked by the Cleveland Browns' "Players of the year."

The 270-pound Johnson, a Cincinnati native, is in his fourth season with the team. Coach Blanton Collier Tuesday ranked him "with the very best defensive tackles in professional football."

Nelsen, a former Pittsburgh Steeler, has been at the helm as the Browns won six of their last seven games. He completed 108 of 202 passes, rolled up 1,564 yards and threw 16 touchdown passes.

Both were picked as the Browns' top players Tuesday night and will receive their trophies at the Touchdown Club's annual dinner Dec. 9.

"Walter has great strength and now is using it intelligently"

Bahnsen Chosen Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Bahnsen always wanted to travel. When he was a kid in Council Bluffs, Iowa, he used to dream about being a big league ball player.

The dream came true for Bahnsen last season when he turned in a 17-12 season that was a major factor in the New York Yankees' rise to fifth place. As a result, he has been named the American League's Rookie of the Year by a landslide 17-3 vote.

O. J. Simpson Thinks UCLA To Be Tough

LOS ANGELES (AP) — O.J. Simpson knows he's being compared with football's great rushers from Red Grange to Gale Sayers and he tries to ignore it.

"You might get to thinking I'm so-and-so and I can't be tackled," reasoned the All-American halfback from Southern California. "And that's when you get it."

He looks at Saturday's nationally televised game against UCLA in somewhat the same vein.

"We don't look at UCLA as an inferior opponent," Simpson asserts despite the 3-6 record of the cross-town foe. "I look over their defense and see about everybody we played last season and I've said before that was the toughest defense we faced."

A year ago with both USC and UCLA in contention for the mythical national championship, Simpson smashed through on a 65-yard touchdown run with 10:38 left to bring the Trojans a 21-20 victory, the Rose Bowl bid and the collegiate title.

In 1967 it was UCLA quarterback Gary Beban who won the Heisman Trophy, awarded the player voted the best in the nation. Simpson placed second and this year stands as the prime candidate.

While the USC runner already has set a Pacific-8 rushing record for a single season with 1,449 yards, the Bruins haven't found a quarterback replacement for Beban.

Bill Bolden, slated as the successor, injured a shoulder in the opener and hasn't rounded into winning form. Jim Nader, who passes better than Bolden, lacks the running ability so necessary in the UCLA offense.

The Coliseum kickoff is set for 3 p.m. PST to accommodate television viewers across the nation with USC rated a two-touchdown favorite.

Middletown Man Has Arraignment For Extortion

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A Middletown man is free today on his own $1,000 recognizance bond after being arrested and arraigned Tuesday on an extortion charge.

David E. Cottrell, 31, one of 10 men laid off work recently at the Shurtle-Pandia Division of the Black-Clawson Co. here, is charged with sending a letter threatening to bomb the Black-Clawson Co. and three of its executive's residences.

The letter was received Oct. 10 at the home of Robert Vokes, a vice president and general manager of Black-Clawson.

The specific charge against Cottrell is knowingly depositing or causing to be delivered by the Post Office Department a message containing a threat to injure.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Bobcats of the U.S. Hockey League will leave Dec. 1 on a 10-day trip to the Soviet Union to participate in a round-robin tourney in Moscow.

Plan Reception

TORONTO (AP) — A civic reception is planned at City Hall today for Al Balding and George Knudson, the Canadian golfers who won the World Cup Golf Championship in Rome last Sun-

Smith said he did not reach that conclusion until several weeks ago while trying to reconstruct the events that occurred in his mobile laboratory at Churchill Downs on the evening of May 4.

Smith contended, however, that the use of sulfuric acid instead of hydrochloric acid would not have changed the outcome of the test on Dancer's image.

Grafton, one of the attorneys for Fuller, charged that the procedures used by Smith's laboratory were quite different than those followed by other racing chemists.

THEY'RE SHOWING 'EM—The Missouri Tigers, heading for a Big Eight Conference bid, lost their opening game to Kentucky and then started rolling and have been rolling ever since with Oklahoma on November 16 and Kansas on November 23 the big ones. Heading the cast is tailback Greg Cook, the leading rusher; halfback John Staggers, top receiver; quarterback Terry McMillan and the star defensive back, Roger Wehrli.

Hargan To Face Surgery On Arm

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pitcher Steve Hargan will undergo surgery on his throwing arm Thursday, but should be back in uniform in time for spring training in February, the Cleveland Indians said Tuesday.

Indians officials said Hargan, a right-hander from Palm Springs, Calif., will undergo surgery at Shaker Medical Center in Cleveland to have scar tissue removed from a nerve in his arm. Doctors also plan to place the nerve deeper in his arm.

Frazier Training

PLEASANTVILLE, N.J. (AP) — Joe Frazier, recognized as world heavyweight boxing champion in five states, opened training here Tuesday for his Dec. 10 title fight against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina.

Cajun Prelude Set

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — A $2,500 pre-am will serve today as a prelude to the $35,000 Cajun Golf Classic, the final stop of the year on the PGA tour. The tourney starts Thursday.

Johnson, Nelsen Chosen As Top Browns Players

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Defensive tackle Walter Johnson and quarterback Bill Nelsen have been picked by the Cleveland Touchdown Club as the Cleveland Browns' "Players of the year."

The 270-pound Johnson, a Cincinnati native, is in his fourth season with the team. Coach Blanton Collier Tuesday ranked him "with the very best defensive tackles in professional football."

Nelsen, a former Pittsburgh Steeler, has been at the helm as the Browns won six of their last seven games. He completed 108 of 202 passes, rolled up 1,564 yards and threw 16 touchdown passes.

Both were picked as the Browns' top players Tuesday night and will receive their trophies at the Touchdown Club's annual dinner Dec. 9.

"Walter has great strength and now is using it intelligently,"

Collier said at his weekly news conference Tuesday.

"Other teams frequently pay him the compliment of double teaming him."

The Browns coach tagged Nelsen as a "fine leader," adding that "he has the ability to take the team to points and victory."

Nelsen is now ranked sixth among National Football League passers.

Nelsen will be starting quarterback Sunday when the Browns take on the winless Philadelphia Eagles in an Eastern Conference NFL contest at Cleveland.

Collier said Tuesday that the Eagles' winless record was his biggest problem.

"This is the kind of team that scares me to death," said Collier. "They're hungry and one of these weekends will put everything together."

"My problem," Collier said, "is to try and sell this game to my football team, to get a team up, because you can't tell what can happen when you're playing against pros."

The Browns expect a crowd of 60,000 to 65,000 for the game.

Bahnsen Chosen Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Bahnsen always wanted to travel. When he was a kid in Council Bluffs, Iowa, he used to dream about being a big league ball player.

The dream came true for Bahnsen last season when he turned in a 17-12 season that was a major factor in the New York Yankees' rise to fifth place. As a result, he has been named the American League's Rookie of the Year by a landslide 17-3 vote.

Shooters Listed

Pickaway Junior Rifle Club competition winners at the Nov. 12 meeting were Tony Wagner, Richard Congrove and Tim Carpenter.

Greg Cook Given MVC Back Honor

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Greg Cook, it appears, is saving his best for the last in a phenomenal passing season for the Cincinnati Bengals.

Now dubbed the "Cincinnati Cannon," Cook gunned down the NCAA record for passing yardage last week in the Bearcats' 60-48 loss to unbeaten Ohio University.

For his performance, the Cincinnati senior quarterback was named today the Missouri Valley back-of-the-week for the second straight week.

Bryant And Bobb Win MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University quarterback Cleve Bryant, a junior from Canton, has been named the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Guard Nelson Bobb of Kent State, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound junior from Gahanna, is the MAC's Lineman of the Week.

Cheer 'Em Up

Oops! Sorry but Herschel Litter did not enter the hospital when reported. He was scheduled but at the last minute it was cancelled. We had gone to press, by then, Saturday he was admitted and is in Room 409, Riverside Methodist Hospital. Mae told me so.

Mrs. Eugene Bush has been discharged from Mt. Carmel Hospital but still continues under the doctor's care. We wish her complete recovery and many years good health.

Wedding Bells

Of local interest is the wedding, Saturday, in Asbury Methodist Church, uniting Carolyn White of Cincinnati and Gary Skinner of Delaware.

Attending the wedding and reception from here were Mrs. Ulin McGhee, the groom's paternal grandmother and his uncles, aunts and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner, Scott ad Jeff, and Mr. and Mrs. George Skinner, Vic, Val and Van.

Later in the evening they were also among members of the immediate families and close friends who were entertained with a buffet supper in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Skinner.

This is the fourth grandchild of Mrs. McGee's to be married this year and that's a lot of rice throwing.

Coming Attractions

Fairfield Union - Westfall basketball, home, Nov. 23; Junior MYF Nov. 24; PTA (Thanksgiving program Grades 6) Nov. 25.

Due to the inclement weather, Saturday, the Jr. MYF's were unable to canvass for the Stove Kneec fund. Rev. Linville hopes they can be out in full force this coming Saturday.

Good-Bye

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howard have moved to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Madeline Bendure of Buckeye Lake. Mr. Howard was a rural mail carrier here for many years. They will be missed.

Let's All Go

A carry-in dinner will be held Friday, Nov. 22, at 6:30 p.m. in Westfall High School, for local 4-H Clubs Achievement Meeting. Clubs participating are the Jr. and Sr. Deer Creek Busby Bees, Jr. and Sr. Deer Creek Livestock, Deer Creek Electricians and Westfall Wranglers. Beverage, only, will be furnished and all interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Attended the Ford Philpot Crusade, Sunday evening with Mrs. Jack Clark. The place was packed but I did glimpse, Mrs. Marie Gibson, Mrs. Jack Arledge, Mrs. Norma Mace, Sally and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rittinger, Miss Pat Kneec and Miss Jonda Steinhauser, all from here.

New Business

Sonny's Barber Shop has opened for business and we hope it is a long and profitable venture for all.

The shop has been pleasantly re-decorated and is indeed neat and clean.

In the profession for 28 years, Sonny's "legal monicker" is Leroy Denney but has been called Sonny all his life.

By the way, "fellas," one thing caught my eye — the price is lower than most places. Remember — a penny saved is a penny earned.

It benefits us all to patronize local businesses so why not give Sonny a real welcome and get clipped — hair, that is.

Happy Birthday

Wayne Wright, Nov. 18; Gordon Massie, Nov. 22; Pete Cochenour, Nov. 23; Joyce Stevens, Nov. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright called on Mrs. Cora Welker, a patient at Medic Center, E. Town St., Columbus and visited with Mrs. Wright's sister and her niece, Mrs. Lillian Grim and Mrs. William MacBlaine of Grandview last Thursday.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Arledge was their son Harry and his family of Delaware.

Pert and pretty Vicki Sykes was home Thursday night for the football banquet and again for the weekend. Vicki, a senior nursing student at Riverside Methodist Hospital, is now doing her affiliation pediatrics training at Childrens Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barker, Jr. and Mrs. Ernest Barker, Sr. were surprise visitors at the Easterday home on Saturday. They were on their way home to Columbus, Indiana from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Other Banquet Notes

A large turn out enjoyed the annual football banquet and awards last Thursday night.

One drawback of a larger school is not being acquainted with everyone but I keep trying.

A few of the Williamsport families enjoying the evening were the Jim Sykes, Paul Scheins, Clark Hunsickers, Carl Scheins, Carl Longs, Don Garrisons, Cooke Metzgers Ellwyn Hulses, Mrs. Fred Tipton, and Tom, the Dave Longs and as Booter president, Dave had plenty to keep him busy.

The all important kitchen committee was in capable hands with Mrs. Harry Morris, Mrs. Bud Hastings, Mrs. Tom Farmer and their helpers, Debbie Morris, Penny Hasings and Linda Draise.

Mr. Dick Wellings' on was his usual superb, witty poised and beseeching a gift self as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Gene Slaughter, head football coach at Capital University, the main speaker was most interesting.

All the coaches, Dave Katherenrich, Jon Wilson, Jeff Bigam, Roger Crago and Rick Pond had warm words of praise for all the boys — varsity and Jr. High.

Mr. Jeff Tracy, Coach of the cross-country team, gave a resume of their efforts and introduced the team members and presented their hard won awards.

Mrs. Pat Ogle, adviser, introduced the cheerleaders — seven very personable young ladies.

The importance of the band at the games was acknowledged and rightfully so since who will deny we have a fine band?

I was impressed once again with our boys and girls. We have a really fine looking, clean, well groomed and good group of young people.

When Don Greenwood received his awards I felt as much pride, I think, as his mother, Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood who sat at our table. Others at our table were: Paul Whiteseds, Suzanne Steinhauser, Bob Whaley, Mrs. Ned Long, Joe and Nellie Wright, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. George Mowery, Mrs. Alice Schleich (Don's grandmother). Next table over we saw the Benton Pattersons.

We felt sad and glad for Bruce Sykes, senior. One of Westfall's great ball players and a really great all round guy.

A rather special glow emanated from the fact Westfall is Scioto Valley Conference Champs.

For years, my mother and my friend Cara Beatty have encouraged me to write a book — the Herald probably thinks I just now have.

Senior Citizen

This week we turn the spotlight on another dear neighbor, remarkable woman, and long time Williamsport resident.

The new baby daughter born March 31, 1874, (and even using modern math that totals 92 years) to Morris and Sarah Snyder Hafez, was christened Phoebe. She grew up — married — and the new life of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smiley began.

They had a long (69 years) and interesting married life until kindly Mr. Smiley died in 1962.

Their son Ray, who has lived many years near Dayton, kept the home lively with his buddies and their boyhood activities and the Smiley home welcomed them all with open arms.

Daughter Ruth (Mrs. Charles Shippe) lives in Macon, Georgia, where Mrs. Smiley has spent part of the winter months. Ruth is an active gardener and accredited flower judge and visits here often. She is one of my very favorite people.

Nearly each day Mrs. Smiley walks the four or more blocks uptown to shop and it is a mighty spry, brisk walk, too. Bet she can outstep most of us easily.

She still gardens, rakes leaves, sews a fine seam, and today (Monday) when I called to obtain her birth date she was having a luncheon guest, Mrs. Margaret Sampson, and had prepared fried chicken.

A few years ago for a Deer Creek Garden Club program I was fortunate enough to get to do a "This Is Your Life, Phoebe Smiley." I had a wealth of wonderful information from her family and multitude of friends and my favorite story of all was thus:

She and her husband were great gardeners and one day he and Ruth were taking vegetables to friends when unfortunately they had an accident. Friends immediately took her to the accident scene. Her first sight was of Ruth covered head to toe with big red spots whereupon she promptly fainted. On recovery she discovered it was not blood, as feared, but squashed tomatoes.

NCR, Union Meet U.S. Mediator

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Company and union negotiators were to meet with a federal mediator today in an effort to end a three-day strike which has idled nearly 15,000 workers at the National Cash Register Co.

The NCR Independent Employees Union, representing 14,863 workers, struck the company Monday. On Tuesday, the strike spread to NCR's printing and supply plant in Washington Court House, where 150 members stayed off the job.

The walkout began as a wildcat strike Monday, but later in the day was sanctioned by the union's executive committee.

The strike came as both sides were reporting progress in negotiations. But there reportedly was unrest among the workers, who have been without a contract more than a year.

The contract expired Sept. 1, 1967, but negotiations were complicated by the fact that several unions sought to represent the employees. The matter finally was settled last Sept. 13 when the IEU won the right to represent all NCR employees.

Contract proposals made by either side since Nov. 1 have not been made public.

Earlier the company reportedly offered an $80 million package of improved wages and fringe benefits over three years.

The union rejected the offer, reportedly saying it wanted across-the-board wage increases, not increases based on labor grades and classification of workers as proposed by the company.

CHS Slates Back To School Night

Circleville High School's Parents Back To School Night' has been scheduled 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was announced by Paul Sarchet, principal.

The annual event will be held in the new high school building. Parents of all sophomores, juniors and seniors students are invited to the event. The parents will be assembled in the auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m. for a brief orientation session.

Immediately following the assembly, all parents will have an opportunity to visit the different classes.

All Circleville High School teachers will be in attendance and all areas of the building including classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria, and auditorium will be open for viewing and visits from parents.

Each class session will be approximately 20 minutes in length. A brief description of the subject matter, its requirements and objectives and overall course of study will be presented by the teacher. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the class sessions.

HHH Pushes Space Fund

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Declaring America's space program a wise investment, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the nation "will pay the price" for not investing more funds for future space research.

"The space program has contributed greatly to the structure of our nation," Humphrey told National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials meeting here Tuesday to review preparations for an around-the-moon flight by the three Apollo 8 astronauts at Christmastime.

"I have felt it has been underfunded at times and we will pay the price," the vice president said while explaining that Congress and the Johnson administration cut space spending because of other priorities.

"I feel it is a wise investment on the part of Congress and the public," Humphrey said referring to space research. "I'll do what I can as a private citizen and a former chairman of the space council to see it is funded."

Humphrey, who as vice president is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council which advises President Johnson on space policy, visited Cape Kennedy for five hours Tuesday en route to Washington from Miami.

Memorial Mass Set For John F. Kennedy

DALLAS (AP) — A Mass will be said at Holy Trinity church Friday for the late President John F. Kennedy. The Very Rev. Oscar L. Hubert, former priest at Holy Trinity, administered the last rites to the President at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

Kennedy was shot five years ago Nov. 22 as he rode through Dealey Plaza in a motorcade. A $100,000 memorial to him, to be located two blocks from the plaza, is scheduled for completion in October of 1969.

DuPont Engineer Is Transferred

JAMES P. BARE

James P. Bare has been transferred to DuPont's plant in Wilmington, Del., according to announcement today.

Bare began his DuPont career in June of 1962 as an engineer at the Circleville plant. He held foreman and supervisory positions prior to his assignments in the plant's technical section.

A graduate of the University of Wichita in Kansas, he holds a BS degree in industrial engineering.

He and his wife, Jane R., resided at 529 Plaza Drive.

Snow Storm Jams Roads At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A team of 190 men struggled through the night to clear Cleveland's streets and roads after the first snow storm of the season snarled traffic Tuesday.

Police described the holdup as the worst in Cleveland's history and said the weather backed up 14 miles of cars from downtown Cleveland to West 25th Street and along State Road south to Pleasant Valley Road in Parma.

Two inches of snow blanketed downtown Cleveland and the West Side and up to four inches was reported in sections of southern and eastern Cuyahoga County and most of Lake and Ash-tabula counties.

Up to five inches of snow was reported in parts of Geauga County.

Harry C. Ziskind, Cleveland street commissioner, said 35 trucks and 190 men worked through the night to clear the streets and highways for this morning rush hour.

Police reported scores of minor accidents Tuesday on slippery roads throughout Greater Cleveland.

Aussie Market Lucrative For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio South Pacific Mobile Trade Fair, the state's trade mission to Australia, reports finding a fertile market for Ohio products in that part of the world.

Members of the trade fair reportedly have made more than 300 personal contacts with Sydney businessmen this week and have found that Australia represents "many millions of dollars in potential Ohio business."

North Koreans Murder Family Of ROK Soldier

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean reserve officer returned home from a night of searching for North Korean guerrillas today and found his parents, wife and two daughters massacred, apparently by the North Koreans, the Defense Ministry reported.

The North Koreans have been the object of a massive search since about 60 of them landed on South Korea's east coast early this month. Thirty-seven have been killed and two captured.

Ko Ul-Shik, 37, a reserve corps platoon leader, had been taking part in a night search through the rugged, mountainous area about 100 miles east of Seoul. When he returned to his home in Pongsehang County this morning, he found his whole family beaten and stabbed to death and his cow and 10 fowl stolen.

The Defense ministry said the footprints of a group of men led from Ko's isolated farm home into the uninhabited mountains.

The union rejected the offer, reportedly saying it wanted across-the-board wage increases, not increases based on labor grades and classification of workers as proposed by the company.

CHS Slates Back To School Night

Circleville High School's Parents Back To School Night" has been scheduled 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was announced by Paul Sarchet, principal.

The annual event will be held in the new high school building. Parents of all sophomore, junior and senior students are invited to the event. The parents will be assembled in the auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m. for a brief orientation session.

Immediately following the assembly, all parents will have an opportunity to visit the different classes.

All Circleville High School teachers will be in attendance and all areas of the building including classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria, and auditorium will be open for viewing and visits from parents.

Each class session will be approximately 20 minutes in length. A brief description of the subject matter, its requirements and objectives and overall course of study will be presented by the teacher. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the class sessions.

HHH Pushes Space Fund

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Declaring America's space program a wise investment, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the nation "will pay the price" for not investing more funds for future space research.

"The space program has contributed greatly to the structure of our nation," Humphrey told National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials meeting here Tuesday to review preparations for an around-the-moon flight by the three Apollo 8 astronauts at Christmastime.

"I have felt it has been underfunded at times and we will pay the price," the vice president said while explaining that Congress and the Johnson administration cut space spending because of other priorities.

"I feel it is a wise investment on the part of Congress and the public," Humphrey said referring to space research. "I'll do what I can as a private citizen and a former chairman of the space council to see it is funded."

Humphrey, who as vice president is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council which advises President Johnson on space policy, visited Cape Kennedy for five hours Tuesday en route to Washington from Miami.

DuPont Engineer Is Transferred

JAMES P. BARE

James P. Bare has been transferred to DuPont's plant in Wilmington, Del., according to announcement today.

Bare began his DuPont career in June of 1962 as an engineer at the Circleville plant. He held foreman and supervisory positions prior to his assignments in the plant's technical section.

A graduate of the University of Wichita in Kansas, he holds a BS degree in industrial engineering.

He and his wife, Jane R., resided at 529 Plaza Drive.

Memorial Mass Set For John F. Kennedy

DALLAS (AP) — A Mass will be said at Holy Trinity church Friday for the late President John F. Kennedy. The Very Rev. Oscar L. Hubert, former priest at Holy Trinity, administered the last rites to the President at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

Kennedy was shot five years ago Nov. 22 as he rode through Dealey Plaza in a motorcade. A $100,000 memorial to him, to be located two blocks from the plaza, is scheduled for completion in October of 1969.

Snow Storm Jams Roads At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A team of 190 men struggled through the night to clear Cleveland's streets and roads after the first snow storm of the season snarled traffic Tuesday.

Police described the holdup as the worst in Cleveland's history and said the weather backed up 14 miles of cars from downtown Cleveland to West 25th Street and along State Road south to Pleasant Valley Road in Parma.

Two inches of snow blanketed downtown Cleveland and the West Side and up to four inches was reported in sections of southern and eastern Cuyahoga County and most of Lake and Ash-tabula counties.

Up to five inches of snow was reported in parts of Geauga County.

Harry C. Ziskind, Cleveland street commissioner, said 35 trucks and 190 men worked through the night to clear the streets and highways for this morning rush hour.

Police reported scores of minor accidents Tuesday on slippery roads throughout Greater Cleveland.

Aussie Market Lucrative For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio South Pacific Mobile Trade Fair, the state's trade mission to Australia, reports finding a fertile market for Ohio products in that part of the world.

Members of the trade fair reportedly have made more than 300 personal contacts with Sydney businessmen this week and have found that Australia represents "many millions of dollars in potential Ohio business."

North Koreans Murder Family Of ROK Soldier

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean reserve officer returned home from a night of searching for North Korean guerrillas today and found his parents, wife and two daughters massacred, apparently by the North Koreans, the Defense Ministry reported.

The North Koreans have been the object of a massive search since about 60 of them landed on South Korea's east coast early this month. Thirty-seven have been killed and two captured.

Ko Ul-Shik, 37, a reserve corps platoon leader, had been taking part in a night search through the rugged, mountainous area about 100 miles east of Seoul. When he returned to his home in Pongchong County this morning, he found his whole family beaten and stabbed to death and his cow and 10 fowl stolen.

The Defense ministry said the footprints of a group of men led from Ko's isolated farm home into the uninhabited mountains.
